Dewey Hailed In Cleveland; Truman Rips Congress, Reds

13,000 Hear GOP Chieftain

Truman Heads For New York

(Compiled From Wire Services)

Northern Ohio last night gave Gov. Thomas E. Dewey the biggest political ovation staged in Cleveland since the late President Roosevelt's visit there eight years ago.

Public hall and adjoining Music hall were packed to their 13,000 capacity. Observers estimated the total attendance at 2,000 above the number who heard President Truman in the same auditorium the night before. An estimated 140,000 Clevelanders lined Dewey's parade route along Euclid avenue.

Dewey received an ovation lasting more than three minutes when he was introduced by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

"Am I entitled to suspect that we're going to carry Ohio?" he asked. The huge crowd answered with a loud "Yea."

Dewey, without spelling out names said the President and the Democrats, whether they know it or not . . . are voicing day after day the worldwide communist propaganda that America is heading from boom to bust. The "boom-bust" prediction—if the Republicans are elected—has been a standard campaign statement with Mr. Truman.

"They are trying to divide our people by appeals to fear and prejudice," Dewey said of the Democrats.

He conceded that they were not communists, nor communist sympathizers.

"Perhaps they simply do not understand what they are saying.

"Perhaps, being in office, they are acting from the human urge to stay in office at all costs. Whatever the motive, they are doing our country a grave injury.

CHARGES WEARINESS

Dewey said he made no claim for the Republican party as the "only one party . . . fit to govern."

"But administrations grow weary in office," he added "They lose their grasp. They become fumbling and weak. Responsibility finally falls into faltering hands while internal strife and bitterness destroy their capacity to govern.

"So today, a vigorous, united Republican party stands ready to take on the responsibility of government," he said.

Dewey speaks tonight in Boston at 9 p. m.

Meanwhile, President Truman rode through the historic New England countryside today, calling upon the people to seek "liberty"—from the 80th Congress—at the polls next Tuesday.

He is en route to New York for a major campaign talk at 10:30 p. m. (EST) in Madison Square Garden, after a Boston warning to Russia "we shall not retreat" from Berlin.

Speaking from Massachusetts' hallowed Taunton green where the "first flag of liberty in the original 13 colonies flew from a giant liberty pole" months before the outbreak of the revolution, Mr. Truman asserted:

ASKS 'LIBERTY POLES'

"I think it's time for liberty poles again, all over the country."

"Only this time, I'd spell pole another way—'poll.'

"It's time for the American people to cast their ballots for liberty at the polls next Tuesday—liberty from the Republican 80th do-nothing Congress."

The President asked for election of Congress "to work with a forward-looking president in solving out acute housing shortages."

Wheels Roll Again

NEW YORK —(AP)— Buses and trolleys rolled again today on seven systems carrying 3,500,000 daily fares as left-wing leaders of a revolting union faction urged their followers to join a back-to-work movement.

Lausche Accepts Challenge

(By International News Service)

Ex-Gov. Frank J. Lausche today accepted Governor Herbert's implied challenge to discuss the administration of the liquor department under both governors and threw a few mismanagement charges of his own.

Herbert opened the touchy question some days ago by citing the flood of bogus night club permits issued in the closing days of the Lausche regime. Lausche, at Dayton last night, opened fire on his own account by declaring:

1. That Stanley B. Cofall, Herbert's first liquor director, resigned suddenly after a few months;

2. That the auto of Stanley B. Kelch, Cleveland police sergeant who was enforcement chief under Cofall, was bombed under circumstances never explained;

3. That a Portsmouth man assigned to examining liquor permit applications has been indicted for accepting bribes;

4. That under Cofall, liquor inventories soared from 39 million dollars to 59 million dollars, and

5. That the Herbert administration "permitted a candy outlet to sell liquor." (An agency was granted to a wholesale confectioner in Cleveland.)

ALWAYS 'A TROUBLE'

Lausche then held out an olive branch by declaring that he did not want to be too harsh in his criticism because "the liquor department has been and always will be a trouble and a difficulty to any governor under the present set-up." He suggested that the department be taken from the control of the director and placed under a non-partisan board.

Herbert meanwhile was in Cleveland aiding in the rousing welcome being accorded Republican presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey.

Herbert said: "What the people want is teamwork. Teamwork between the national, state and local governments. Teamwork between the executive and legislative branches of government. Teamwork between the people and their government. Teamwork among the people themselves.

"There can be no unity — no progress—without teamwork."

Opens Attack On M'Gregor

Robert W. Levering of Mt. Vernon, Democratic candidate for congress, last night called his opponent Congressman J. Harry McGregor, "the isolationist, short-sighted congressman from the 17th district."

Levering, at two Richland county Democratic rallies, charged that his opponent had fought against the Marshall plan, which Levering said was "a step towards peace."

Levering spoke at a rally in the Ontario high school and another at the Lexington Town Hall. About 35 persons attended each rally.

"If my opponent is interested in stopping communism, which threatens Europe, why does he fight the plan by flooding the mails with a speech he made about the plan a year ago?" Levering asked.

Levering said some of the poll takers might be wrong about the outcome of the election, just as the Literary Digest was wrong in 1936.

Levering took a $5 bill out of his pocket, offering it to anyone who had heard a Republican candidate use the names of Harding,

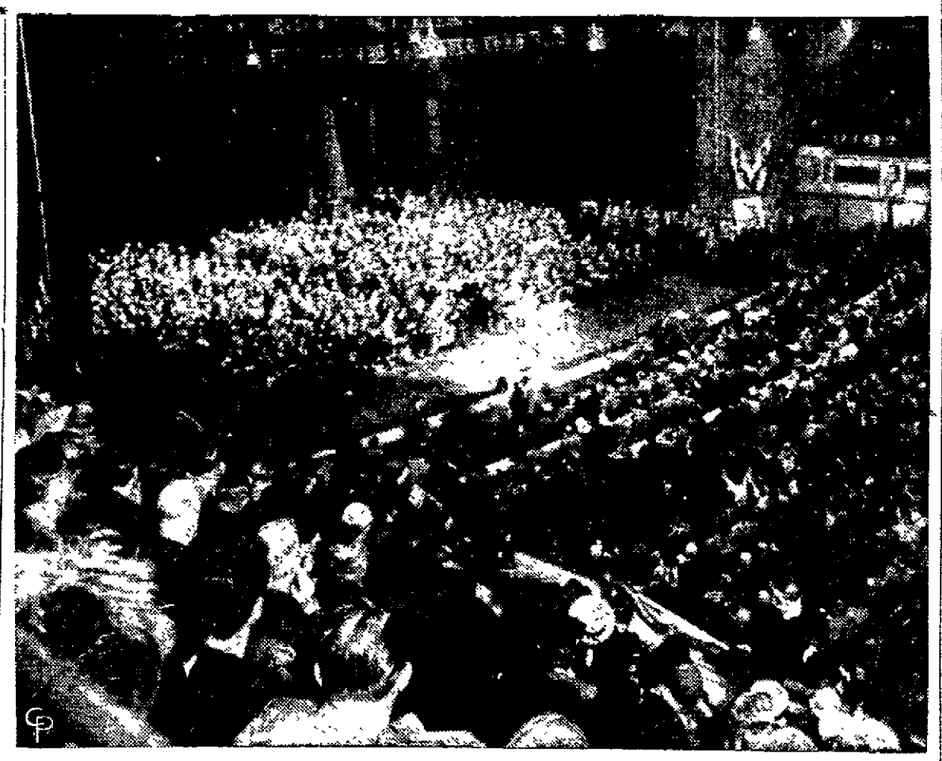
Chinese Armies Step Up Pace

PEIPING —(AP)— Great armies of Nationalists and Communists pitched headlong today in what may be the decisive battle for control of Manchuria and North China.

The center of operations seemed to be between the Manchurian city of Chinhsien, 125 miles above the Great Wall, and Tahushan, 65 miles north of Chinhsien.



13,000 PACK AUDITORIUM TO HEAR DEWEY—Calmly predicting his own election to the White House next Tuesday, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey lashes President Truman's handling of foreign affairs in a major campaign address in Cleveland's Public auditorium where, 24 hours earlier, President Truman confidently forecast a Democratic victory. An estimated 13,000 packed the auditorium to hear the Republican presidential nominee.

Butter Hits Year's Low

Price Here Drops As Much as 5 Cents

Following the lead of the Cleveland market, wholesale and retail butter prices in Mansfield were down from two to five cents a pound today, marking a new low for this year.

Retail butter is selling for 66 to 71 cents a pound today. Mansfield dairies quoted wholesale prices at 63 to 65 cents a pound.

The new price represents a total decrease of 27 cents a pound wholesale during a period of a little over a year, one dairy spokesman said. Butter prices have been steadily declining during the past month, but no immediate further decreases are expected, he said.

Milk prices dropped one cent a quart last month, but have held steady since that time.

Numerous reasons are given for the decline in butter prices. Production of butter is high this year because of bumper crops, dairy spokesmen said. The high price of butter and other dairy products earlier this year brought about a decreased demand for butter on the part of many families. The cool weather this fall lowered sales of ice cream. Because of this, butterfat which would have gone into ice cream was used for butter, increasing the amount of butter available.

8 Convicted In Germany

NUERNBERG, Germany —(AP)—An American court today convicted eight German generals of war crimes. An admiral was acquitted.

The judgements completed the cases of 13 high German military commanders, with 11 convictions and two acquittals. Sentencing is expected later today.

The three-man tribunal yesterday found all 13 defendants innocent of plotting to start World War Two, ruling they did not rate high enough to make policy.

It then proceeded to pass judgment on charges of crimes by the 13 against prisoners of war and civilians.

Traffic Restored Today

Erie Freight Train Derailed Near City

(Picture on Page 2)

Traffic on the Erie railroad through Mansfield was restored early today after five flat cars of a westbound freight were derailed near Pavonia at 9 p. m. yesterday.

Railroad officials said a "hot box" on one of the flat cars caused the derailment. No one was injured in the wreck.

Meanwhile, a report that steel bars, resembling ties used to spike rails on a curve, were found on the Erie tracks near North Lake park, was being investigated today by railroad and county authorities.

Troops Move In On Mines

PARIS— (AP) —Wailing sirens called French miners to mobilize for battle today as troops moved into the pro-Communist Pas De Calais area to take over strike-bound northern mines.

A government announcement said "a large force of troops and a large convoy of police" had encircled the area and were closing in.

An estimated 30,000 troops took part Monday when mines in the eastern section of the northern coal fields were taken. Today's movement was in the western section of the northern fields.

Pickets at Carvin, near Lens evacuated six pits without incident although sirens wailed througout the early morning.

An electric light plant and coke oven seized by police in the Lens region were inspected by engineers and declared ready for operation.

Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer said Emil Lommatzsch, Erie railroad detective, reported yesterday that he had found the steel bars on the tracks Monday afternoon.

Lommatzsch pointed out, the judge said, that a fast passenger train could have been wrecked by the forked bars and complained that Mansfield school children walk the tracks while going to and from Senior high school.

Erie officials at Marion said 350 feet of the westbound track near Pavonia was torn up by last night's wreck and 100 feet of the eastbound line was damaged. Westbound traffic was restored at 8 a. m. today and eastbound traffic at 4 a. m.

HAULING STEEL

The flat cars, carrying metal pipes and steel, were two-thirds of the way back on the 117-car freight.

One flat car near the derailed cars was carrying a large electric transformer.

The train was bound from Kent to Marion. State highway patrolmen from the Mansfield and Ashland posts aided in the investigation of the accident.

Engineer of the train was B. R. Stine. G. D. Riley was the conductor. Both live in Marion.

New Revolt Hits Peru

Second Rebellion In Past Month

LIMA, Peru —(AP)— The government rushed loyal troops to its defense today after an army garrison revolted at Arequipa. It was Peru's second major rebellion within 25 days.

President Jose Luis Bustamanta Rivero's government announced late last night that Brig. Manuel Odria, commandant of the Arequipa garrison and a former minister of government (interior), and troops under his command had launched an insurrection.

A communique, which gave no details of the progress of the revolt, said the government was taking "necessary measures to subdue the subversive movement."

The government said troops at Lima, the capital, and other garrisons in the north and south had remained loyal. Arequipa is in southern Peru, about 135 miles from the Bolivian border. The president broadcast a message to the nation denouncing the Arequipa revolt as the work of a small group of "ambitious and resentful" men.

He warned that the government was ready to act firmly and appealed to the rebels to lay down their arms.

Peru has been in a state of unrest for months and the government declared a national emergency and assumed emergency powers Tuesday following a students' political strike.

Union Action Draws Protest

YOUNGSTOWN —(INS)— Members of Local 1331 of the CIO-United Steelworkers union protested bitterly today the suspension of their officers by the union's international body.

Charges of "politics" were hurled at the international office for its action at a protest meeting staged last night in Youngstown by members of he union.

The union's international officials formally charged the local officers with ballot stuffing in an election held several months ago.

South Carolina Boasts Own Democratic Party

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(UP)—Supporters of President Truman in South Carolina today formed a new state Democratic party and made plans to "exile" Gov. J. Strom Thurmond and others who bolted to the States' Rights banner.

The new group, built around Truman-Barkley electors, said it expected "almost immediate" recognition from the national Democratic party in Washington.

Find 'Hot' Numbers In Phone Book

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Firemen here ran into some hot numbers in an early morning call today.

Summoned to the apartment of Nate Green this morning they found a smoldering blaze which originated in a phone book.

The firefighters estimated the damage at $5 and made the obvious remark:

"Some pretty hot numbers in there."

Jews Extend Peace Offer To Egypt

Invite Officials To Peace Talks

TEL AVIV—(UP)—Israeli authorities invited Egypt to peace talks today and reported that Egyptian troops in south Palestine were surrendering in wholesale lots.

An army spokesman said the Egyptians had given up Isdud, 20 miles south of Tel Aviv and the anchor position of the high water mark of the Egyptian push northward.

Egyptian troops and local Arab inhabitants were reported hoisting white flags in several pockets in the Negev, where the fighting stopped by United Nations order.

Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok invited Egyptian participation in peace talks aimed at settling all differences between the countries.

The invitation was sent to Aubrey S. Eban, the Israeli representative at the United Nations General Assembly in Paris, with orders to present it to the Egyptian UN delegation.

Meanwhile, unconfirmed reports from southern Palestine said Egyptian troops were attempting to leave Isdud, 20 miles south of Tel Aviv, because they had no water.

In Paris Britain asked the United Nations Security Council today to order a withdrawal of Jewish troops in the Negev and to consider imposing economic sanctions against the infant state of Israel if the order is not obeyed.

China joined Britain in presenting the resolution and four other members—the United States, Canada, France and Belgium—announced they would support it. Russia asked for a delay to consider the proposal.

Soviet delegate Jacob Malik said it was premature to take such drastic steps now because quiet has been restored to the Negev as a result of the UN's cease-fire order.

The Israeli government, which refused an earlier UN order to withdraw in the Negev, offered meanwhile to negotiate the Negev situation with Egypt either directly or through the good offices of the UN.

The British-Chinese proposal won the support of a majority of the security council. But a vote was delayed until 10:30 a. m. (4:30 a. m. EST) tomorrow at the request of Russia and the Ukraine.

Demonstrate Goodwill Among Faiths

Demonstrating the feeling of goodwill between Mansfield's various religious faiths, the new Lutheran Mission in South Boulevards will hold its first meeting Sunday at Temple Emanuel, Lexington avenue and Cook road.

Services in the Temple Emanuel, recently dedicated here, will be held at 11:45 a. m. with Rev. Wray Smith, mission pastor, preaching on the theme, "The Word Yet Remains."

Sunday's first church service will culminate more than six months organization work by Rev. and Mrs. Wray Smith and officials of the Home Mission board of the United Lutheran church, Synod of Ohio.

At the services Sunday the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel LaBrie will be baptized. A wire recording of the first church services will be made to become a part of the archives of the mission.

BELLEFONTAINE — (INS) — Logan county Democrats will make plans tonight for a special welcoming for President Truman when his campaign train stops at Bellefrontaine for 15 minutes Saturday night.

The train, en route to St. Louis, is scheduled to arrive in Bellefontaine at 12:10 p. m.

Lashes At Britain, Neutrals

Says Policy Can Lead to New War

MOSCOW — (AP) — Prime Minister Stalin accused the United States, Britain and the so-called neutral states of the United Nations Security Council today of supporting a policy which can lead to the "unleashing of a new war."

The Soviet leader added, however, the present international crisis "can only end in an ignominious failure on the part of the instigators of a new war."

Stalin answered a series of questions put to him by a reporter of Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, on the Berlin controversy.

The prime minister criticized China, Canada, Colombia, Syria, Belgium and Argentina for their actions in the Security Council at Paris during the Berlin discussions. (These six nations attempted to mediate the big power quarrel over Berlin, but Russia vetoed their proposed compromise Monday.)

"Those gentlemen are obviously lending their support to a policy of aggression — to a policy of unleashing a new war," Stalin asserted.

"The point is," Stalin went on, "that the inspirers of the aggressive policy of the United States of America and Britain do not consider themselves interested in agreement and cooperation with the U. S. S. R.

BLAMING RUSSIA

"They want not agreement and cooperation but talk about agreement and cooperation, in order to thwart agreement, to throw the blame on the U. S. S. R. and, by so doing, prove the impossibility of cooperation with the U. S. S. R.

"The instigators of war, who are striving to unleash a new war, fear more than anything else agreement and cooperation with the U. S. S. R., since a policy of agreement with the U. S. S. R. undermines the positions of the war mongers and deprives the aggressive policy of these gentlemen of its objective.

"Precisely for this reason they disrupt agreements already reached, disavow their representatives who have reached such agreements with the U. S. S. R., and transfer the question, in violation of the U. N. charter, to the Security Council, where they possess an assured majority and where they can 'prove' anything.

POLICY OF AGGRESSION

"All this is done in order to demonstrate the impossibility of cooperating with the U. S. S. R., to demonstrate the necessity of a new war, and thus prepare the conditions for the unleashing of a war.

"The policy of the present leaders of the United States and Britain is a policy of aggression and the unleashing of a new war."

"Where can all this end?" asked the correspondent.

Stalin replied:

"It can only end in an ignominious failure on the part of the instigators of a new war. (Winston) Churchill, the main instigator of the new war has already managed to deprive himself of the trust of his own nation and of the democratic forces throughout the world."

"The same fate lies in store for all other instigators of war. The horrors of the recent war are still too fresh in the memories of peoples and public forces favoring peace are too strong for Churchill's pupils in aggression to overpower them and to set a course for a new war."

Campaign Cost High For GOP

WASHINGTON —(INS)—The Republican party is apparently pouring into the 1948 election campaign two dollars for every one put up by the Democrats and their supporters.

Latest financial reports filed with the clerk of the house disclosed that the Republican National committee and nine affiliated groups spent $3,473,815 up to 10 days before the Nov. 2 balloting.

In comparison, the Democratic national committee and labor groups which are supporting only Democratic candidates spent $1,706,820. This is only slightly more than the $1,101,261 reported spent by the Progressive party and other supporters of Henry A. Wallace for President.

BUTTER PRICE DROPS

CLEVELAND—(INS)—The price of butter was expected to drop another two cents a pound today in Cleveland chain stores.

Smoky Atmosphere, Mild Da ys Mark Season

City Basks In Indian Summer Weather

Indian summer, the kind of fall weather nearly everybody likes, is here.

The weatherman promised more of it tomorrow. The days will be mild and the nights cool. There is a possibility of showers by Saturday, the forecasters said.

Indian summer is that typical fall season which usually follows a brief cold spell in the autumn. Burning leaves help to add haze to the atmosphere, a characteristic of Indian summer.

Origin of the Indian summer expression is still vague, although the term is American.

The English borrowed the expression, and also refer to this time of the year as "Indian summer," when the weather gets like this.

In Mansfield yesterday's high was 66 and the low, 40. Only one spot in the state—Zanesville—hit the freezing point last night.

Miami, Fla., reported a high of 76, while Bismarck, N. D., reported a low of 30.

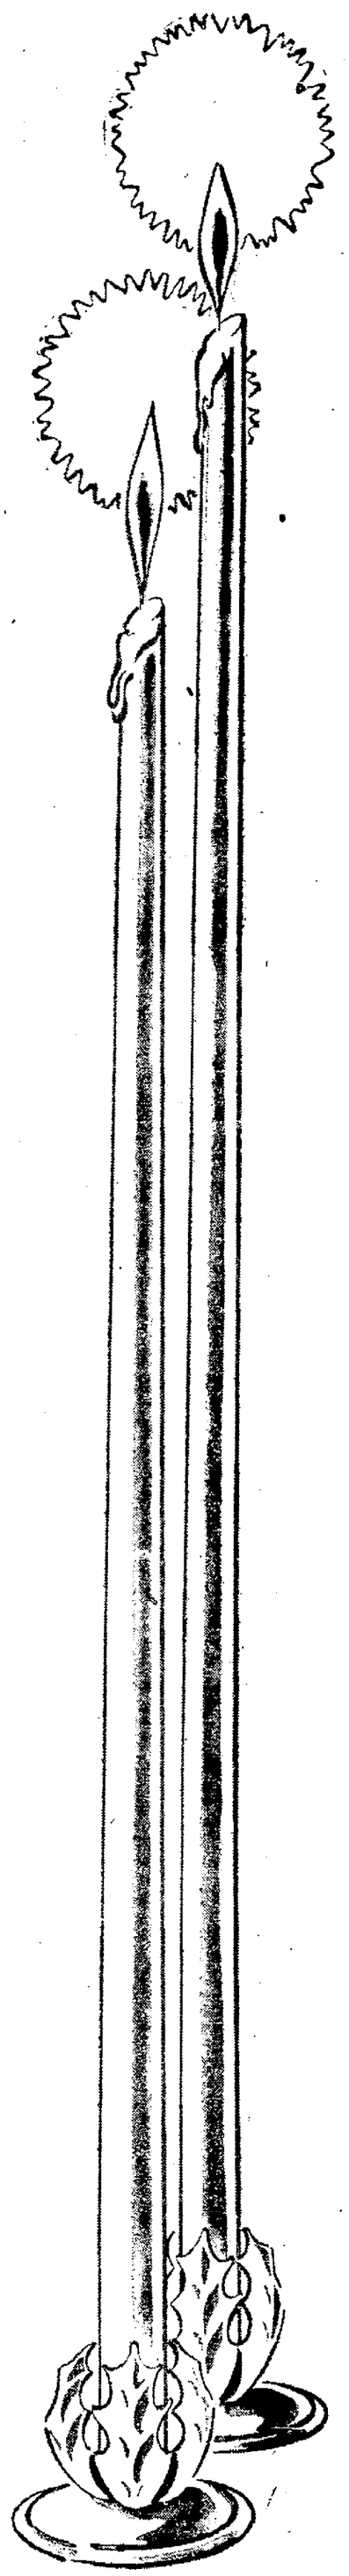
Edward Hall of

HALL'S SHAMROCK MARKET

518 Park Ave. West Phone 2514-6



ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

30 YEARS A GROCER

1918 Just 30 years ago, about this time of year, a bright-eyed Irish youngster embarked upon his career as a grocer in famous old Mitchellstown, County Cork, Ireland. Young Edward was a capable and studious scholar and after a few years apprenticeship, curiosity got the best of him so he toured up and down the British Isles, always working for and with grocerymen—both large combinations and small.

1926

Found our well seasoned and well trained Irish grocer in the city of Cleveland, Ohio—the fame of the United States had reached his ears—and curiosity again had impelled him to come and see. Cleveland was good to Ed Hall, good merchants being always in demand, it was easy for him to do well in the Buckeye state.

1932

Still the curious Irishman—he had to see more of Ohio—so wander he would, and Mansfield was his next stop—and he has been here ever since — why? — well, 'Along Came Ruth,' you guessed it, Ruth became Mrs. Edward Hall — and today at Hall's Shamrock Market it is Ed and Ruth Hall, but let's not go too fast—

1937

Saw Ed Hall at the corner of Lexington Ave. and Blanche street, working at his chosen profession, the good, efficient groceryman—and it was here that his youthful 'idea' began to take form—'Some day I'll have a Great Big Store where I'll have all the room in the world, and be able to serve customers the way they should be served.'

1942

Thence to larger and brighter quarters at the corner of Helen avenue and Bissman court—'This was it'—a nice new store, where he could serve groceries to his customers — but you know the story of the early forties—if you hadn't a lease, out you'd go — someone liked this location better, so out Ed went.

1946

But not very far—just around the corner to 514 Bissman court. Then all the plans and all the hopes of these many years began to take shape—working by day and planning by night the future Hall's Shamrock Market was edging nearer and nearer to becoming a fact. A site was chosen, plans and specifications drawn up and—

Shaw Raps Modern-Day Spelling

Phonetic Better, Author Declares

NEW YORK —(U.P.)—George Bernard Shaw says there is one thing for the sake of which he would not grudge a world war. The issue he rad in mind is not democracy against communism, or religion against atheism. It is phonetic spelling of English against presentday orthography.

In a preface of Richard A. Wilson, book, "The Miraculous Birth of Language," published by Philosophical Library, the pugnacious nonagenerian sould the battle horn.

Prof. Wilson of Saskatchewan University sent a copy of the manuscript to G. B. S. Shaw was as much impressed by the "magnitude of the service the author has done" as by the fact that he is a professor of the University of Saskatchewan, "which was connected by my imagination with ochred and feathered Indians rather than with a university apparently half a century ahead of Cambridge in science and of Oxford in common sense."

LANGUAGE A TOOL

Dr. Wilson's thesis is that prior to the introduction of language the natural world had a uniform rhythm of coming into being and passing into oblivion. It was man who extracted the permanent types out of the myriad forms of nature. And by attaching a permanent symbol of every permanent type he build up in his mind a world of images and ideas that reflected the natural world and kept a permanent record of its events. It was with the aid of language that man became master of fleeting time and infinite space. Language was the tool that enabled the world to become conscious of itself.

That's all right, says Shaw. But we are wasting our time by using the old-fashioned orthography. We should spell phonetically and adopt the spelling rule of one sound, one letter. Every letter of the new alphabet should be given a fixed and invariable sound. The old playwright figures that this phonical alphabet would be composed of 24 new consonants and 18 new vowels.

"Our present spelling is incapable of indicating the sounds of our words....the new spelling would prescribe an official pronunciation." It is at this point that the threat of a world war comes in. For "we shall all agree that h-e-i-g-h-t is an arthographic montrosity: but when it is abolished and we have to decide whether the official pronunciation shall be hite or hyth, there will be probably a sanguinary class war..... Still, we must take the risk.

If the introduction of an English alphabet for the English language costs a civil war, or even, as the introduction of summer time did, a world war, I shall not grudge it. The waste of war is negligible in comparison to the daily waste of trying to communicate with one another in English through an alphabet with 16 letters missing."

Divers Work In Mountains

DENVER —(U.P.)— Two Denver war veterans are earning a living "deep-sea diving" at an altitude of more than a mile.

They are Bob Zirm, 30, ex-sailor, and Jake Yeager, 31, ex-soldier. The two have formed a Denver diving firm.

Their first job was going down 12 feet into Denver's Sloan Lake for a stenotype. The stenotype was recovered and police lodges its thief in jail.

Their next job will be going down in a well to repair some screens.

Harvey Turns Out For Lou

HARVEY, Ill. — (U.P.) — Residents of this Chicago suburb turned out en masse today to honor Lou Boudreau, manager of the world champion Cleveland Indians and Harvey's most famous citizen.

The celebration begins at noon, when the 6,000-odd school children are dismissed from their classes. At 2 p. m. a parade will move down the city's streets to the athletic field, where townspeople will hear speeches by Bill Veeck, president of the Indians; Vice President Hank Greenberg, and others.

In the evening, 750 persons will gather in the high school cafeteria for a banquet honoring Boudreau.

Nevada Combo Tops Passing

NEW YORK — (AP) — A new college football battery is threatening to erase the all-time skywriting records set last year by Mississippi's Charlie Conerly and Barney Poole.

The present duo belongs to unbeaten, untied Nevada. The pitcher is Stan Heath, the nation's top passer and overall yard-gainer. The catcher is his end, Scott Beasley.

Latest figures compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau show that Beasley has caught 23 passes in five games for a total of 294 yards.

Wisconsin Crippled As Iowa Game Nears

MADISON, Wis. —(U.P.)— The Wisconsin fears about the Iowa game this weekend mounted today as the Badgers counted injuries.

Ben Bendrick may be out of the game because of a leg ailment and his understudy, Bob Radcliffe has a sore wrist which may keep him on the sidelines. End Ken Sachtjen and Guard Don Knauff may be out for the season.

Wails Will Rise From Little Man Who Wasn't There

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)— America's public enemy No. 1 is going to wake up a week from today, take a look as his newspaper and start moaning:

"Good lord, look who they've elected."

He will weary his wife with loud cries of lamentation:

"The country's gone to the dogs. What a place this will be to live in for the next four years."

He will annoy his fellow workers at the office with his wails:

"What did that bum do to earn a place at the public trough? I wish I could hibernate until 1952."

And there will be many people, sick of P.E. No. one's yammering, who'll wish he would hibernate.

Who is this human eight-ball-I'll tell you his name. His name is legion. He is democracy's worst foe. He could be the guy who lives next door or in the apartment over you. He may be you yourself. He is, in short, the guy who won't have voted—the little man who wasn't there.

He is the guy who thinks he knows exactly what's wrong with his country—and won't take a few small steps to the polls to help set it right.

Come next Wednesday he'll have a lot of reasons, all bad, for why he didn't bother to do in the secrecy of a voting booth what John Hancock once dared to do in the open—at the risk of a king's anger.

This man with a citizenship quota of minus zero will explain away his failure to back what he believes in by saying:

"I forgot to register."

Or, "I had something else to do, and there was a line at the polls."

Or, "I just didn't like any of the candidates all the way."

Or, he may capsule his whole futility into the common excuse:

"Oh, well, what does my vote count anyway."

The trouble with that attitude is that no man is ever in a position to be sure how much or how little his vote counts.

Take the case of the two men who perhaps did most to win the crossing of the Rhine in the Second World War.

Staff Sgt. Eugene Dorland of Chicago fired two bullets—but those bullets cut the conduit holding wires leading to explosive charges placed by German engineers on the Ludendorff bridge at Remagen.

Sgt. Alexander A. Drabnik of Holland, O., leaped on the lonely fire-swept bridge and raced ahead of ten riflemen to the other side.

Two enlisted men — but an army's grand offensive teetered on their sense of duty.

It would have been simple for Dorland to say:

"Why should I lose my neck cutting a few strands of wire?"

History would never have known ti if Drabnik ducked under cover and consoled himself:

"That bridge is no place for a 34-year-old man, and the boys with me won't mind if we sweat it out here. They don't want to get killed any more than I do."

Neither of the two men knew their lone acts of heroism would help shorten the war and save thousands of American lives. It was just another dirty anonymous battle assignment to them—when they did it.

Voting in America is now clean, safe and anonymous. It just takes a little bit of trouble.

But what quiet men fought to win in battle can be easily lost in peacetime by men of lazy conscience whose sense of duty needs an alarm clock.

"X" marks the fate of any democracy where the people won't take the bother to scratch "X" on a ballot.

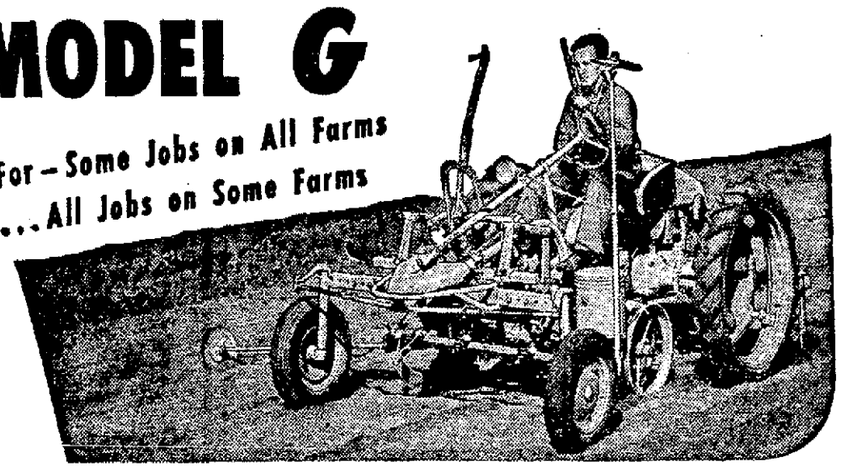
ALLIS-CHALMERS
MODEL G
For—Some Jobs on All Farms
...All Jobs on Some Farms



A NEW SYSTEM OF MOTORIZED FARM TOOLS

Not just another size, another small tractor, but a new idea in farm power. Rear-mounted engine and front-mounted tools permit clear, straight-ahead vision. Handles front-mounted 12-inch moldboard plow in average soils. Any tool can be attached or detached in 5 minutes or less. Operates on 2 to 3 quarts of fuel per hour. Starter, lights and full size rubber tires are standard equipment.

ALL FARMS — A handy helper in busy seasons, in the field, around the barn and on the road. Replaces that last team. Economical tractor for chore jobs such as hauling, pumping, grinding, fencing, sawing cordwood, etc.

SOME FARMS — does all farm work — plows, discs, harrows, plants, cultivates, fertilizes, mows, hauls, and handles light belt jobs.

TRUCK FARMS AND NURSERIES — Replaces hand methods; plants and cultivates on beds or flat surfaces; works in close quarters. Has special low gear for close, precision work.

The Model G has a full line of tools for all farm work.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Find Fossils In Front Yard Of Nebraska State Museum

LINCOLN, Neb. —(U.P.)— What would you do with a couple of pre-historic elephants in your front yard?

That's the question faced by the University of Nebraska state museum, which says it already has one of the world's finest collections of prehistoric elephants in its front room.

Twenty years ago, workmen installing a furnace under a house less than 400 yards from the museum, ran smack into the fossil remains of a 50,0000-year-old pachyderm. Since there was no way to remove the specimen without tearing down the house, they went ahead and put in the furnace.

The excitement arising from the discovery scarcely had subsided when a second fossilized remains was found within 100 feet of the first. It was even closer to the museum but it, also, was under a residence.

Both houses were torn down this fall and Dr. C. B. Schultz, director of the museum, and some of his students are all set to go digging for a look at those elephants. If practicable, the specimens will be removed and transferred to the museum.

British General Says No War In Sight "For Few Months"

Believes War At Least Months Away

Says Withdrawal Best Solution

FRANKFURT —(INS)—A former German cabinet minister in the Soviet zone of occupation predicted today that Russia soon will announce withdrawal of Red army forces from Germany.

(Compiled from wire service)

BERLIN — The British commander in Germany said yesterday he expected "no war in Europe for the next few months."

Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, the British military governor, told a news conference, however, he did not care to predict what might happen beyond that period.

He said also that withdrawal of occupation troops might be the only way to solve the German problem.

"It is my personal opinion," he said, "withdrawal may well be the only means of resolving the dificulties that have led to Allied disagreement.

"However, before one could adopt such a solution one must be sure conditions are satisfactory for withdrawal.

"If there is any question of the peace of Europe not being secure it might be dangerous for such a withdrawal. One must be sure the Germans would be free — really free—to run their own affairs. It would be unwise if the Germans were to fall victims of some small well-organized minority."

Robertson observed the Russians have organized a "police force" for their zone of Germany now numbering 200,000, with the "final figure reported to be 400,000."

He said it seemed to have an "unusual character for a police force" because it was equipped with mortars, machine guns and armored cars.

"I don't know why police should have that equipment," he said. "The purpose of all this—well you can guess it as well as I can. There are certain elements of discontent in the eastern zone but it seems to me this would not require a force of this size—but then I don't know what goes on there."

Historical Film Made By Chinese

HONGKONG —(U.P.) —Chinese film history was made when "The Soul of China," one of the few Chinese films ever to be released for general distribution abroad, had its world premiere.

Filmed originally in Mandarin, English dialogue is now being dubbed in for exhibition in the United States and Europe.

The historical movie, which cost more than U.S. $250,000 and took some 13 months to make, is a far cry from the usual "quickies" which Chinese film studios generally grind out. Its cast includes many of the leading screen stars of China, and scenes were filmed all the way from Peiping to Canton.

The story is that of Wen Tien Hsiang, noted scholar and statesman, who in the 13th century, fought fruitlessly to prevent the overthrow of the decadent Sung Dynasty by the great Kublai Khan. It was Wen's unmovable faith in his country in the face of bribery, threats and ultimate execution, that gives the picture its theme.

Rescuers Look, Swimmer Watches

TWO RIVERS, Wis. (U.P.)—Coast Guardsmen who dragged a stream here were not amused when they discovered the "victim" watching the rescue work.

They called police, who arrested Donald Berger, 26, on a drunk and disorderly charge. Police said Berger had an argument with a woman, who called for help. Berger jumped into the river swam to change his clothes and returned watch the rescue operations. He claimed there was no law against his swimming. But authorities disagreed.

THIS MECHANICAL AGE!

BOONTON, N. J. — (U.P.) — The nation's youngest traffic offender, Tommy Marotta, 5, went scot free today on a technicality.

The boy was given a traffic ticket Aug. 21, charging him with operating a three-quarter horsepower gasoline motor car in a street without a license.

Eloping Couples Given Priority

ISTANBUL (U.P.)—Eloping couples in Istanbul now have official priorities at the marriage bureaus so they can escape pursuing parents. A priority order was issued after several couples complained they had to stand in line so long at the marriage bureaus the bride's parents managed to catch up with her and snatch her away before the ceremonies could be performed.

Sympathetic city officials ordered that eloping couples must be married ahead of all others, provided both parties are of legal age and the bride is willing.

LOST LEG AWAITS OWNER

GREENSBURG, Pa. —(U.P.)— St. Clair park attendants found an artificial leg, complete with shoe and sock, on the park lawn. The owner can claim it at city hall.

coolidge or Hoover in the current campaign. After he had no takers he declared: "No, you don't hear their names mentioned. The Republicans don't want to remind you of the depression days."

He said that the late President Roosevelt saved the nation when he came on the scene in 1932. He called the Democratic party "the party of all the people."

In urging election of Frank J. Lausche, Levering said that with Lausche in office "there will be good government in Ohio."

Attorney Robert Drury of Columbus said that regardless of the "propaganda," Truman is getting a fine reception wherever he goes. He said there will be a strong labor vote and it will be in the President's favor.

He said labor is for Lausche since he rode on the train with President Truman and endorsed him.

Another speaker was Hobert Scott of the state auditor's office, who spoke on the auditor's office and urged the election of Democratic candidates on the state ticket.

The local Democratic candidates who spoke briefly included Harold Lutz, for prosecutor; Treasurer Charles C. Payne, C. L. Mitchell, for county representative; Recorder D. D. Orewiler, Commissioner Guy F. Stewart, and E. P. Long, for sheriff. Marshall C. Moore, chairman of the county Democratic central committee, introduced the speakers.

Lutz rapped his opponent, Prosecutor Theodore Lutz, fr what he termed excessive costs of operating his office.

He charged the prosecutor should have prevented an error in the county TB sanatorium ballot last year which cost $1,000 to correct. He said too much money had to be spent for legal counsel in the collection of delinkuent taxes.

He blamed the prosecutor for bringing Robert Murl Daniels here for trial when Columbus wanted him on a murder charge. Daniels was convicted here last month of the murders of three members of the John E. Niebel family and sentenced to die in the electric chair. Lutz charged it was unnecessary to make Richland county pay the cost of convicting Daniels.

Mitchell, a former member of the state fair board, said there had been no politics in the activities of the board until the present Republican state administration took office.

SCRAMBLED WHEELS—Here is a scene at the Erie freight train derailment last night near Pavonia where five flat cars from a westbound freight, carrying metal pipe, were upset when a "hot box" developed in the undercarriage of one of the cars. No one was injured in the accident. Traffic was tied up several hours on the road.—(News-Journal photo)

Weed Killer Use Aids Farm Income

LINCOLN, Neb. (U.P.)—Agriculture officials estimate the chemical 2,4-D added $4,500,000 to Nebraska's farm income this year.

Weed district supervisors reported 450,000 acres of crop land sprayed with the herbicide with a resulting gain in yields "worth at least $10 an acre." The number of spraying machines owned by farmers and districts increased from 1,000 in 1947 to more than 5,000 this year.

Modern Times Get Blame For Youth Crimes

LINCOLN, Neb. (U.P.) — Outside influences are more to blame than parents for juvenile delinlinquency, according to Dr. James M. Reinhardt, University of Nebraska sociologist.

It's easy to place the bulk of responsibility for wayward children directly upon the mother and father, he said, but they "do not go around willingly and knowingly wanting their children to go to the dogs."

The sociologist believes parents' problems are greater now than a generation ago, when they were not trobled over the possible effect of radio programs and moving pictures on their youngsters.

Reinhardt suggested the problem of juvenile delinquency should be met through community planning.

Shark Devours Young Bather

ATHENS —(INS)—A man-eating shark, dscribed by eye-witnesses as "gigantic," recently tore to pieces and devoured a young lad, barely five yards off the shore, in one of the most frequented spots of Piraeus Bay.

The victim, a 17-year old student, accompanied by three fellow-students, had gone fishing in the early hours of the afternoon.

Dimitrios felt like a dip. He had only been in the sea a few times when his friends heard him yell frantically, and saw a gigantic-looking shark pounce upon him and bite his arm off.

When at last some fishermen, attracted by the yougn men's frantic calls for help, approached the scene of the carnage in a rowboat there was no sign of Dimitrios left on the blood-reddened water.

Ohio Checks Slots In New Liquor Drive

Dunifon Hints Raids Imminent

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The state liquor department today checked the names of 4,563 Ohioans licensed by the federal government to operate slot machines against a list of liquor licensees in an effort to catch violators of the state liquor laws.

Liquor Director Dale Dunifon said the department can take immediate action and raid premises holding both state liquor permits and federal licenses on slot machines.

"Many of the slots are licensed under fictitious names or fictitious addresses," Dunifon said, "nevertheless we expect pay dirt."

Dunifon said licensees caught with federal slot licenses can appeal a denial of their licenses to the liquor control board "but then, they also will have to defend themselves against the slot machine charge. I don't believe they can win."

Dunifon said the department took the list from the files of the collector of internal revenue.

Chest Drive Nears Goal

BUCYRUS—With three-fourths of the $18,000 goal already pledged Bucyrus Community Chest workers have another week to raise the remaining $4,900, Edwin Gearhart, Bucyrus High School principal and campaign chairman, reported today.

Pledges to date total $13,100, or approximately 75 per cent of the goal and another progress report meeting will be held Friday night at the YMCA.

The commercial division has turned in $4,784, representing 87 per cent of its goal for the best record among the divisions. Companies already exceeding their quotas include the Superior Equipment, General Hydraulics, W. A. Riddell, Kime Lumber and Swan Rubber.

Bottled Beer Outsells Barreled Brew In Ohio

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohioans are drinking a lot more beer out of bottles at home today and a lot less out of glasses in saloons.

Figures released by the excise division of the state tax department revealed the state's suds guzzlers also are consuming a lot more "premium" beers this year than they did a year ago.

There have been $1,000 fewer barrels of beer—the kind that comes out of spigots sold this year than last. At the same time, 2,289,675 more cases of bottled beer were sold than in 1947.

"One explanation is that the beer drinkers are buying it by the case or the half dozen bottles and drinking it at home," said William Bailey, supervisor of the excise tax division.

He pointed out that sales of "foreign" beer, meaning that which is brewed outside of Ohio, have taken a big jump. There were 2,143,909 more cases of imported beer sold in the state in 1948 than in 1947, he said.

Normally Ohio brewers furnish about 65 per cent of the 3.2 and high-power beer quaffed by Ohioans, but state brewers' sales increased only 257,662 cases in comparison with the much greater increase in the sale of out-of-state beers.

Illinois, Kentucky and Missouri increased their beer exports to Ohio this year while Pennsylvania's shipments dropped off.

Flying Photogs To Hunt Wildlife

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The U. S. Air Force is going hunting with helicopters tomorrow, opening day of the waterfowl season in Ohio.

The Air Force pilots, however, will do their hunting with cameras as part of an aerial survey of waterfowl concentrations and hunting pressure.

H. A. Rider, state conservation commissioner, said pilots from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton will take pictures of waterfowl and hunters from the air. The pictures are expected to reveal behavior of both hunter and hunted, Rider added.

The civil service board will be present to interview prospective applicants. Upon completion of the interviews, applicants will be told whether they are eligible.

T. A. Woodard, chairman of the board, said today the applications must be postmarked not later than Saturday at midnight.

Examinations for the positions, including fireman, policeman, policewoman, truck driver, meter reader, sanitary, inspector, and clerk-stenographer, will be held at John Simpson junior high school Nov. 4.

Job Nearly Done

The sewer repair project at the intersection of Shepard and Davis roads will be completed tomorrow, B. V. BeVier, city sanitary engineer, said today. The line, a trunk sewer, has been under repair this week. Workmen eliminated improper construction in the old sewer, BeVier said.

Predict Illinois Sweep

CHICAGO —(AP)— Republicans are serenely confident they will sweep Illinois by a comfortable 200,000 to 450,000 margin next Tuesday.

Democratic leaders say they will trail in GOP-dominated downstate. But they hope Cook county (Chicago) will give them enough votes to carry the state by at least 100,000.

Newsboy Credited With Saving Family From Death By Gas

The story of how a 12-year-old News-Journal carrier saved the lives of a Berger avenue family came to light today.

Joel Davis was collecting his collections Saturday and rang the doorbell at the Jacob Barnhart home. The doorbell stuck. Joel waited, fearing that the family might be angry about the incessant ringing.

However, the father opened the door, seemingly in a daze. Joel noticed the father had pulled on his trousers over his pajamas. Barnhart asked what the boy wanted. Joel replied he came to collect for the paper. Barnhart paid him then fell forward in a faint on the porch.

Frightened, Joel ran next door to the home of Mrs. George Sipe, 980 Berger avenue, where he summoned aid. Returning to the Barnhart home, Joel and Mrs. Sipe discovered Mrs. Barnhart in a deep sleep in her bed and the two small children ill and dazed.

Mrs. Sipe returned to her home to call her doctor, who credited Joel with saving the lives of the four Barnharts. Investigation found that the gas furnace was faulty and had thrown out fumes through the registers in the home.

Joel, a Johnny Appleseed junior high school student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Davis, 948 Lenox avenue.

Car Strikes Boy on Bike

A three-year-old Lenox avenue boy suffered a broken left shoulder today about 10:30 a. m. when he ran his tricycle into a slowly moving car. The boy, Jerry Wayne Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunter, of 968 Lenox avenue, also suffered lacerations of the head and face.

Sheriff's deputies said the driver of the car, Forest Goldsmith, of Bellville, took the boy and Mrs. Hunter to Mansfield General hospital. The boy was treated and released.

The accident occurred on Lenox avenue, just off Hanna road. The boy was attempting to cross the street with some other youngsters also on tricycles, deputies said. Goldsmith reported the accident to the sheriff's office after taking the boy to the hospital.

The new members are Dr. John Horst of the Ohio State Penitentiary, and Dr. Melvin Christian and Dr. Albert H. Voegele of Mansfield.

Wayne A. Copeland, hospital superintendent, reported 185 births for the month of September, an increase of 21 over the preceding month. There were 627 patients admitted, one less than in August.

Tom Herbert says get what you PAY FOR

You have just one purpose in paying taxes to the state. That purpose is to secure certain services for the public good, which local units of government cannot by themselves supply. Unless those services are provided both adequately and efficiently, you are not getting what you pay for. Regardless of whether taxes are spent or held in the treasury, you are being gypped until you receive a full measure of the things you expect the state to furnish.

Governor Herbert Put Tax Money to Work

Tom Herbert energized all administrative departments so that the public receives better service. He financed the Soldiers' Bonus. Increased aid to public schools by $19,000,000. Completed or placed under contract, $19,000,000 more of welfare building construction than his predecessor accomplished. Awarded over 50% more highway project contracts. Held nearly four times as many civil service examinations. Paid local divisions of government over $50,000,000 more than under the previous administration. Increased state aid for control of animal diseases.

His Opponent Quibbled on Expenditures

Herbert's opponent provided inadequately for public services. Did nothing to secure ideons legislation. Vetoed appropriations bills for schools. Kept welfare institutions crippled for lack of funds. Got far behind on needed highway projects. Substituted provisional appropriations for civil service examinations. Failed to relieve debt-burdened local divisions of government. Gave agriculture insufficient help against animal diseases.

It's Easy to Name the Better Governor

Tom Herbert provided adequately; administered funds efficiently so that they got you more for your money, and taxes themselves could consequently be reduced. The 'savings' claimed by his opponent were only state money held idle so that it brought the public nothing.

Tom Herbert made good. He gave full measure of the things you pay for. Re-elect him and the Republican legislature which worked with him for better government.

Timely reminder found in a government poster: "Bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote."

Some cities are now offering "obedience classes" for dogs—and some of the pre-Halloween pranks suggest the thought that the field might well be expanded.

When Gabfests Tie Up Phone Service

SELDOM is the "hogging" of a party line telephone brought to public notice in a more provoking way than by the incident related in connection with yesterday's report of a destructive fire on the Maxwalton farm southeast of Mansfield.

As the story is told, two garrulous women were holding the party line with customarily inane chatter, while another woman whose home was ablaze was trying desperately to get the use of the line to call help.

It is also of record that such misuse of party line telephones has frequently delayed calls to a physician in cases of illness or accident, and prevented other important calls.

Interminable "visiting" over party line telephones, which has become a custom with entirely too many subscribers to this service, goes far to defeat the purpose of having a telephone readily available in case of emergency and "something should be done about it"—but what?

Retain Ralph Winter In Ohio Senate

RICHLAND COUNTY has been represented in the state senate during the past four years by Ralph A. Winter, of Lodi, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket and whose record has been such as to recommend him highly for continuance in that position.

During the past four years Senator Winter has added valuable experience to an educational background and legal knowledge, which equips him even better for the duties involved in representing a four-county district in the upper house of the state legislature.

Recognition of ability is seen in the important committees on which Senator Winter has served and a noteworthy endeavor was that of making an effort to strengthen regulations governing the issuance of driver's permits to teenagers.

This 27-29th district is composed of Richland, Ashland, Medina and Lorain counties, and the extent of support of Senator Winter's candidacy on two previous occasions was such as to indicate a feeling of confidence that has been warranted by the excellence of his record.

Another Marvel of Science Revealed

THERE may be more usefulness than would appear at first glance in the recent development of a process, combining micro-photography and television, by which messages can be sent by radio at the fantastic speed of 500,000 words a minute.

Essentially a way has been found to transmit the images of motion picture film at extremely high speed, making at the receiving end a copy of the film comparing in quality with the original. The possibilities for use of this process are innumerable.

Used to transmit printed or written matter, it would almost inconceivably multiply the amount of material which can be transmitted in a minute of radio time. Thus it might offer an answer to the increasing problem of the crowding of available radio frequencies, permitting commercial message transmission to be cared for adequately in greatly reduced radio channel time. David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, suggested it might lead to commercial applications which would make it worthwhile to overcome the complex obstacles to television systems crossing the oceans.

Battle of Ideologies Disturbs World

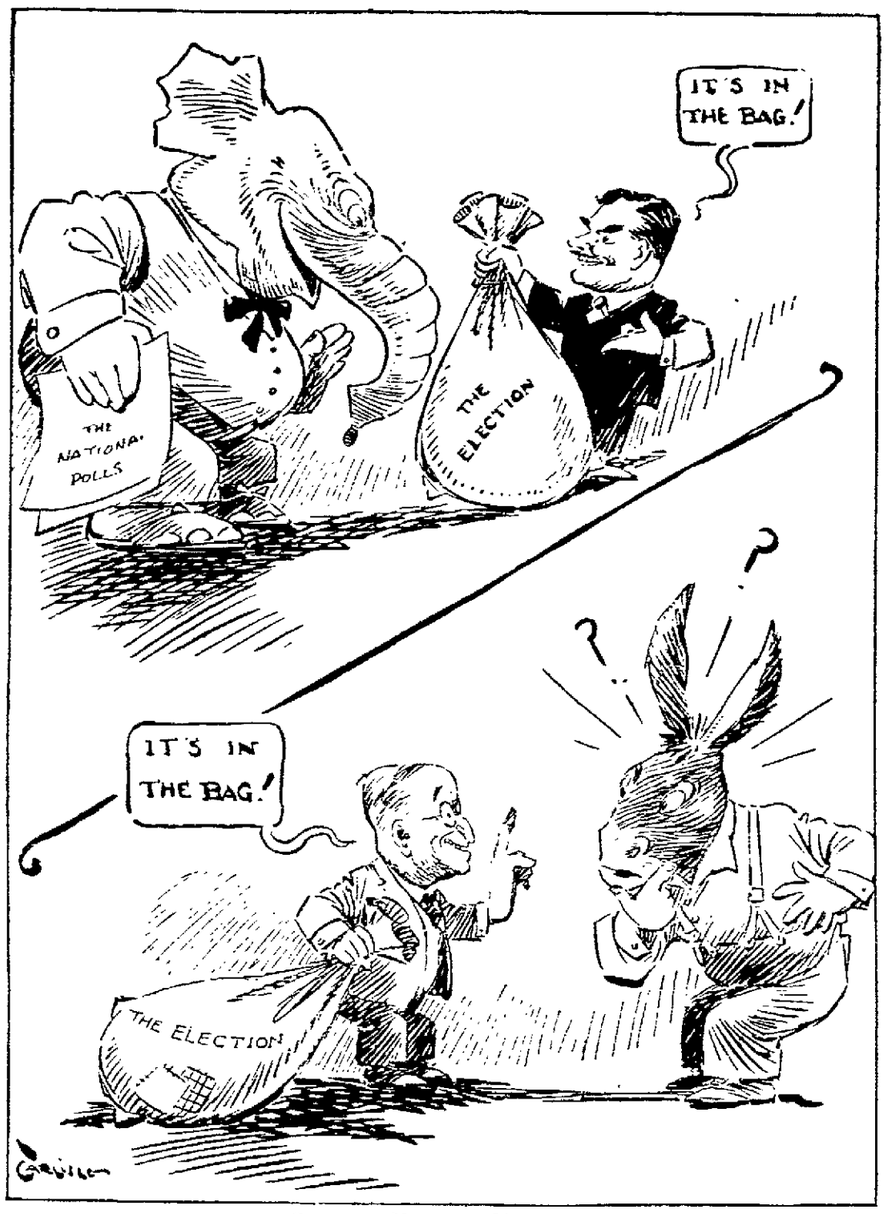
THE RUSSIAN COMMUNISTS, like the nazis before them, have cast away as excess baggage such abstract values as morality and truth as well as the warm human virtues of kindness and compassion. Representatives of the Western nations, especially the United States, have been following what we regard as more ethical principles in treatment of the vanquished.

Observers in Germany are impressed by the strong contrast between Russian and American tactics there. Eastern Germany has been stripped of food and materials, and provided with a strong police force which keeps the German people in subservience.

In the Western zone the people are being helped toward self-government, and food and coal are made available even though the cost is high. Both as a nation and as individuals, Americans are showing magnanimity. American soldiers are kind to the children and friendly to their elders, in contrast to the stern, aloof attitude of the Russian rank and file.

Rarely in the world's history has there been witnessed a more dramatic contest between the positive and the negative, between generosity and greed, between, to use much-abused terms, good and evil.

Noting the raised imposts of fifty in saloons, Harry Wade concludes: "Even political convictions are weaker on the third drink."



Someone Must Be Mistaken.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

National Ticket Influences Local Voting

CHICAGO —Any commentator who knows his business will issue a warning at this moment in the campaign. State and local results are always greatly influenced by the momentum of a sure winner like Dewey. In fact, the winning national ticket almost always runs beyond expectations.

Roosevelt himself, despite his political know how always underestimated his electoral and popular vote.

Therefore, in appraising the Senate and House outcome, it is wise to anticipate that the Republican candidates this year will run ahead of most predictions and that in doubtful cases the probability runs toward the Republicans.

In Illinois, this should carry Brooks and Green beyond most present predictions. Brooks bears the burden of the concentrated and bitter opposition of labor. Green has some labor support which is denied to Brooks.

On the other hand, Green has the opposition of some reform elements in and around Chicago. Both these Republican candidates, however, are opposed by Democratic candidates who elicit no great enthusiasm among Chicago machine Democrats. Douglas, Brooks' opponent, some years ago made things unpleasant as a member of the city council for some elements of the Kelly machine, and this has not been forgotten.

Minnesota presents a different picture. Senator Ball is a victim of many misfortunes, for some of which he alone is responsible. His support from national figures, including Warren and Stassen, has not been enthusiastic.

His desertion of the national ticket in 1944 has not been forgotten in his campaign against Humphrey, mayor of Minneapolis. Ball is opposed by a shrewd, plausible speaker.

* * *

Placed On Defensive

BECAUSE Ball's senatorial record is a long one, he has been questioned on many of his votes. He has tried to answer these criticisms and, hence, has been fighting a defensive battle, which is never an advantage to a candidate. It is a bitter truth, moreover, that Ball's forthrightness during his public service has hurt him.

It will be no encouragement to young idealists who want to enter politics to see such an outspoken man defeated.

But many voters are moved more by disappointed personal wishes for material gains than by admiration for a public servant who always speaks his mind.

Labor opposed Ball because he helped shape the Taft-Hartley Act. Farmers oppose him because they fear the loss of many New Deal perquisites and advantages. And many farmers in Minnesota are still infected with a socialistic virus developed in the years of the Non-Partisan League and the Farmer-Labor party.

Polls by the Minneapolis Tribune give Truman as well as Humphrey a big advantage. But Ball supporters point out that this poll has been inaccurate in past instances. The St. Paul Pioneer Press has polled the editors in all counties outside the three big cities, and the result shows strong Republican sentiment.

One thing is certain. Ball and Dewey are gaining in these final days. The outcome will depend on the acceleration of this gain and the extent of the present Republican disadvantage.

In Illinois and Minnesota, as well as in Wisconsin, there is not likely to be any great change in the party balance of House seats. Increasing Dewey sentiment may even win in two or three Democratic districts in Illinois. It may even be strong enough to win for Ball.

Washington Calling

Atom Enters Politics

By MARQUIS CHILDS

ONE THING about this curious presidential campaign now drawing to a close is unique. The atom has for the first time in history got into politics.

Four years ago hardly anyone except a few scientists knew that the atom existed. This year both major party candidates devoted a speech to the force that burst on the world with such terrifying suddenness at Hiroshima three years ago.

Because Candidate Dewey made the first speech he must take the blame for bringing the atom into the campaign. Avoiding any direct criticism of the policy of the Atomic Energy Commission, Dewey used the phrase "the dead hand of government" which was obviously intended to make political headlines.

Aside from this catch phrase, what Dewey said does not differ greatly from what Chairman David Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy Commission has frequently said. That is that government cannot do the job alone. It must be a partnership between science, industry and government.

In his speech Candidate Truman said "that atomic energy should not be used to fatten the profits of big business." This ignores the fact that one of the AEC's problems has been to persuade business firms to take atomic development contracts. One of the biggest of big businesses said no, because of the fear of becoming involved in just the kind of political scrap that the Truman-Dewey speeches foreshadow.

Actually from the beginning, when atomic fission was nothing but a gleam in Professor Einstein's eye, business has been in partnership with government. Dewey is right when he says that it could never have been done without the guiding direction of government under the spur of war.

The partnership is continuing. Industrial laboratories and universities have taken research contracts.

* * *

Considering Difficulties.

ANYONE who looks at it without prejudice is bound to question whether atomic energy ever can be fitted into the competitive free enterprise system as we have known it in the past. It is hard to imagine competing atomic power plants.

Like a city-wide electric power system, it must by its very nature be a monopoly. Furthermore, you begin with the fact that more than two billion of taxpayers' money already have gone into atomic development.

There would be few to advocate that this be turned over to the small number of private companies that could operate and develop it. Certainly for the forseeable future, when atomic development is almost entirely concentrated on the military phrase, the business-government partnership is the most that can be hoped for.

As though this aspect of the atom was not sufficiently overwhelming, dwarfing most ordinary considerations, the question of international control looms even larger. A change in the American policy on atomic energy and atomic weapon control can be expected from a Dewey administration.

Among the Dewey advisers, who are so highly sensitive to public opinion and world reaction, the feeling is growing that the Baruch proposal for international control and policing of all atomic fission is now outdated.

That is to say, they believe that neither Congress nor the public would be willing, after two years of Soviet resistance and denunciation, to yield so much authority over our own development to the United Nations.

Atomic politics on the world level is even more frighteningly futile and stupid than on the national level. If the Russians had accepted the American plan two years ago, it would have meant an enormous stride forward toward world order.

A step backward will be equally long stride in the direction of atomic destruction.

Duties of Child Welfare Board Defined

Editor News-Journal

House Bill No. [illegible] known as the Child Welfare law, had as its almost sole purpose the integration of all public services for the care of dependent and neglected children.

Transition of duties from one agency to another cannot be accomplished immediately, and we realize that many agencies have failed to refer cases to us that were more appropriately ours to provide the necessary service.

Protective service to supplement social services to unmarried mothers and adoption work has been done to some extent by this agency, but, with the additions now being made to our staff, we feel that we are in a position to assume the full duties defined by law as our responsibility.

A partial outline of the powers and duties of the Child Welfare Board for and on behalf of children in the county seemed to be in order.

(a) To co-operate with make its services available to and act as the agent of persons, courts, and the state department of public welfare and other organizations within and outside the state in matters relating to the welfare of children.

(b) By securing the wholehearted co-operation of the community in reporting children in need of service can the Child Welfare Board function at its best. If any case involving children coming under the scope of this board is brought to attention, we are ready to render whatever service is required.

GEORGE W. REECE,
Executive Secretary Child Welfare Board of Richland County.

Voters Cutting Party Lines This Year

By DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES — There's a strong tendency in almost every part of the country to cut party lines in this election and vote for the best congressmen, regardless of party.

Following up previous Merry-Go-Round columns evaluating congressmen who deserve re-election, here is a roll-call of others worthy of being returned to the House of Representatives. Fortunately for the country, the list of good congressmen is too long to be published here, but here follows a cross section of reserving legislators, some of them in close election battles:

Jim Wadsworth, New York Republican — Not too proud to go back to the House of Representatives after serving in the Senate. A far-sighted battler for preparedness before Pearl Harbor and a real asset to Congress.

Sol Bloom, New York Democrat — A grand old warrior who has served his fellow men for a quarter of a century. Once in the theatrical business, Sol introduced the Salome dance to this country, is addicted to loud vests, can always be found fighting on the side of the underdog. Opposed by the left-fringers and communists, Sol now faces the re-election race of his life.

Mike Monroney, Oklahoma Democrat — Recognized by both political parties as one of the finest men in Congress. He declined an invitation to be Truman's secretary of agriculture because he honestly believed he knew more about being a congressman than about agriculture.

Karl Stefan, Nebraska Republican — Born in Czechoslovakia, Stefan has been of great help to the state department in getting propaganda ideas behind the Iron Curtain. He has had the courage to buck reactionary G. O. P. leadership in getting more money for anti-trust prosecution.

John Blatnik, Minnesota Democrat — Came to congress with a great war record and has been just as courageous in congress as he was in the Army.

Hugh Mitchell, Washington Democrat — Another ex-senator who isn't too proud to serve his country in the house of representatives. After a good, though brief, record in the Senate, he was defeated in the 1946 G. O. P. landslide and is now running for the House.

Frank Havenner, California Democrat — Was a front-line battler for low-cost housing and did his own thinking on the Marshall Plan, despite strong opposition from the Wallaceites. Because of this the Wallaceites put up a candidate against Havenner, but later withdrew him.

Mel Price, Illinois Democrat — One of the few ex-G. I's in Congress (most congressional veterans were officers). Price enlisted in the Army as a private at the age of 38 and came out a sergeant. He has consistently battled against the real estate lobby.

Gordon Canfield, New Jersey Republican — One of only eight Republicans who had the courage to vote against the repeal of price control.

Francis Walter, Pennsylvania Democrat — Staunch foe of bureaucracy, frequently fought with Roosevelt over regulating federal agencies, marched out of Congress to join the Navy during the war. Good voting record, a dangerous adversary in debate.

Helen Gahagan Douglas, California Democrat — Fought harder to defeat the real estate lobby than almost anyone else in Congress; also an unrelenting battler for lower prices. A Brooklyn girl who made good in Hollywood, she has now made just as good in Congress.

John C. Brophy, Wisconsin Republican — Has the courage to bolt the G. O. P. whip-crackers when he thinks he is right; worked for better housing, championed labor, uncovered scandal in sale of government ship accessories.

Chris Herter, Massachusetts Republican — Ranks alongside Senator Vandenberg as a battler for bipartisan foreign policy. Hard worker, influential leader.

Mike Kirwan, Ohio Democrat— Though he never got past the third grade, he has risen to leadership in the halls of congress.

John Vorys, Ohio Republican— Aggressive-thinking, slow speaking, independent-voting, he is one of the respected G. O. P. leaders.

This column lacks the space to include many able southern congressmen who in real fact do not come before the voters now, since their fate was decided in earlier primaries.

It also lacks space to include many other high-rating legislators to whom credit has been paid in the past, among them are: Thurston Morton, Ky.; John Lodge and James Patterson, Conn.; Harold Hagen and Edward Devitt, Minn.; Willis Bradley, Calif. — all Republicans; and Chet Holafield, Calif.; Ray Madden, Ind.; Ed Hart, N. J.; John Carroll, Colo., and George Miller, Calif., all Democrats.

Assignment: America

Such An Odd Situation

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—Should it go according to the predictions of the current public opinion polls, Tuesday's election may well mark the first time in history that the American voter has said regretfully to his President:

"This hurts me worse than it does you!"

This is not, by any matter of means, intended to imply that Harry Truman is a dead political duck, come next Tuesday. All polls to the contrary, he still might be the next President.

Nor is it a device aimed at casting aspersions on Governor Dewey. The pain implied by the ancient parental cliche is of another nature entirely.

Finally, it does not mean to falsely hint that no previous president or ex-president ever has been beaten at the polls. (In these touchy times it is better to get all such things clear.)

All it means is that, come November the second the voters who may defeat Harry Truman in his race for re-election may well bear him no grudge at all. In fact they may vote against him with gentle regret.

Curiously, it took a so-called foreign correspondent to point out this unusual condition. And unusual it is.

Said this man a British newspaperman reporting the election campaign for his English readers:

"This may well be the first time in history that American people have taken their President to the woodshed with obvious and admitted regret."

Then he added, albeit with a wry grin:

"The British do it to their leaders often . . ."

Actually, if you sit in Washington during these waning days of the campaign, it's the only conclusion you can reach—that is, if Truman is defeated it will be a spanking administered in sadness.

Because mostly—whether they be newspaper folk or other people—the citizens seem to like him. Personally that is. And you find that holds true even in Republican national headquarters here in Washington. Even in the atmosphere where they're most devoted to defeating him, people like him.

And like the chiding parent, they seem anxious to make it clear that they're only doing their duty. It's a strange situation.

* * *

They Like "The Guy."

YOU NOTICE it in particular among those who ride his campaign train. It is no trade secret that many a newspaper is opposing the President. Nor is it any breach of the faith to reveal that many a reporter is riding the Truman train in body only.

Nevertheless, as they return to Washington for quick, between-trip home leaves, you find their comments curiously intriguing.

From the straight news reporters, who have an objective job to do, the reaction is not too surprising. They do that job with a hard, clear, honest brittleness. But, having done it, then they feel free to say things like this:

"It hurts you to think the guy may take such a beating. After all, the whole business is not his fault—but he shoulders it, and fights the thing out by himself."

From the anti-Truman columnists and editorial writers who also ride the train, you get the most strange (historically speaking) reaction. They seem unduly anxious to point out that whatever they may write concerning the campaign is not aimed at the President himself. They will harangue you at length to make the point clear that, personally, they like the guy.

Finally, the two Washington newspapers who have taken a definite stand for Dewey have come out within recent days saying editorially that, personally, they think the President is a pretty solid citizen — and has fought a good fight.

It's just that they add in effect, they don't think he should be president again.

Looking Back

Fire at St. Paul's Lutheran church, West Third street, was extinguished with slight damage.

Resignation of Rev. Lawrence A. Wood as pastor of Baptist church was accepted by congregation as he was called to pastorate of Trinity Baptist church in Marion.

Cora E. Milligan McEown and Henry Krabill were married by Rev. Henry C. Roehner.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hans, Altamont avenue, visited their daughters Margaret and Mildred, who were in a convent in Joliet, Ill.

A pageant, "The Waiting Guest," was presented by young people of First Lutheran church.

Mrs. William Murst, 261 Wayne street, returned after a three-months visit in England.

I see the NLRB has finally got around to deciding that there is such a thing as unnecessary roughness outside of football bowls. It vetoes the notion that free speech is only protected when somebody chases somebody else up an alley, surrounds him on his way to work, overturns his flivver and otherwise applies the principle of the blitz in labor disputes.

It says mass picketing must go. This will depress a lot of police departments which have seemed to be enjoying it immensely.

Farmer's Diary

'All Flesh Is Grass'

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE Honey Creek pasture where our own and our neighbor's cows spend the summers is a natural pasture—a beautiful green field with trees, and a spring-fed stream flowing by. Near the creek, peppermint and sweet aromatic plants till the hollows. Low trailing Dutch clover grows and spreads, but saw grass and sour plants grow in the lower swamps. Every spring the freshets wash in other seeds, no doubt—for there is an amazing conglomerate of grasses represented.

Even in a dry summer, the cows find plenty to eat—grazing up and down the whole length of the field every day. And from those pails of foamy milk comes our milk, butter cream and buttermilk. What a factory a cow is! What a business the dairy industry!

Nothing but grass. Goats, camels, sheep and reindeer, waterbuffalo, mares, cows—all have been the source of human dairy food in olden days. And from the times when the animals were herded by dwellers who moved their tents to suit the condition of the pasturage, to the present day, the dairy farmers have been the real backbone of agriculture. Grass has been called the "forgiveness of Nature—her constant benediction." Battlefields grow green, shell holes are covered, graves lose their harsh newness beneath the creeping grass. It is the cheapest food for livestock, the best manure for the soil, the greatest erosion controller, the single source of food that both men and beasts must have. For our bread is made from cereal grains which are grasses, too.

The sun's energy is free. Giant ferns of ancient times became coal that we use today. Today's grass stores the energy from the sun in the soil beneath it. It becomes fully sodded and rooted in about four or five years after sowing. After that, it can be replowed with profit. Permanent pasture is rarely an actual profit-maker for generations. Grass, too, needs renewing. Generally speaking, most farmers know too little about what grasses grow best, and are best suited to their locality.

But there is no picture quite so peaceful and so right as a herd of sleek dairy cows grazing peacefully beside a rill, and no sight so stimulating to a farmer's pride as a grassy field with chunky beef-type cattle tossing their white faces, or bellowing their wonders at the passerby.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, October 29
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

ALTHOUGH there may be a dominant urge to indulge the personal activities and aspirations of life, on this day, with yearnings toward social, domestic, and romantic doings, yet it is probable that there are to be scant satisfactions or pleasures in this direction. Several adverse aspects prevail, making it a day of disruptions, estrangements, unlooked-for events in which all matters—business, financial, professional and personal—may be considered fitful or "topsy-turvy." Maintain honesty and high purpose, but postpone major plans until more harmonious and fertile auspices.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find their affairs, business and private, unlikely to develop along cherished lines, plans and high objectives. Sudden and strange influences may affect the most carefully and happily designed programs, with an unforeseen turn probably precipitating separations, explosive clashes, estrangements, or other surprising and disruptive twists and patterns. The situation is neither pleasant, profitable nor constructive. Postpone action and romantic dreams until more propitious time. Adhere to principle and integrity.

A child born on this day while possessing many refinements, aspirations, and worthy ambitions, may lean toward the erratic, emotional and dramatic, with unhappy reactions on its life.

Optimists To Observe Anniversary

'Week' Proclaimed By Mayor Vaughn

A dinner-dance at Richland Recreation on Nov 10 marking the 25th anniversary of Optimist International will highlight the week of Nov. 7-13, which Mayor Roy W. Vaughn proclaimed as Optimist Week yesterday. Leonard B. Hurwitz is program chairman for the dinner-dance.

"Every member of the community benefits from the work that Optimist clubs do in behalf of our youth," said Mayor Vaughn in the proclamation.

One of 700 in the Optimist International the Mansfield club strives to provide wholesome entertainment for the area's youth.

As a corollary to the coming elections, the slogan of "Optimism and Leadership" will highlight this 12th annual celebration, announced club president Bryce McMahon.

The optimist creed will be used as a guiding light for the week's celebration. It is as follows:

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind. To talk health, happiness, and prosperity to every person you meet.

To make all your friends feel that there is something to them. To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true. To think only of the best, to work only for the best and to expect only the best.

To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own. To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future. To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.

To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others. To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and to happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Former Prison Chaplain Dies

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Rev. John C. McCoy, 58, former chaplain of the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville, died here yesterday. The Rev. McCoy, pastor of the Westwood Presbyterian church, also had served as chaplain of the Lebanon prison farm and the Warren county home.

Re-elect Officers

CINCINNATI —(AP)— For the first time in 30 years the Ohio State Restaurant association will be headed by the same set of officers for two years in a row. All officers were re-elected yesterday.

BABY DRIVES TRUCK

MANHATTAN, Kan (U P)— Lewis Botterman's anger was tempered with amazement when he reached the slow-moving pick-up truck which had banged into his car as he backed from a driveway. At the wheel was the two-year-old daughter of Mrs Yvonne Byrd.

Chinese Air Force Slips

NANKING —(AP)— China's air force appears to have lost its Sunday punch against the Communists.

It remains of increasing importance for transport, but its tactical value and fighting powers have dropped.

Recent Communist victories indicate the Reds no longer fear the government planes.

Air support was prominently mentioned in government accounts of the battles of both Tsinan and Chinsien.

Fat targets, such as heavy troop concentrations, artillery and supply trains, were obviously numerous; yet Chinese air power failed to halt the Communist conquest of both cities.

A year ago most Red commanders dared operate only at night for fear of government air attack.

Lake Captain Dies Of Heart Attack

LORAIN (AP)— Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon for Capt. James B. Lyons, 82, who became a captain in 1914 when the Inter-Lake Steamship company was founded, and sailed for that firm on the Great Lakes for 33 years until he returned last year. He died Tuesday night of a heart attack.

Two Armed Men Get Cash, Dope

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Two armed men tied up Dr. Schofield M. Coryell, 60, and robbed him of $129 yesterday. They also stole 100 grains of morphine, police said. Just eight days ago a dentist here received similar treatment.

Flying In and Out of Mansfield

Advance Trainers Made Noon Flights

Those planes flying over Mansfield around noon every day this week are advanced single engine trainers of the 164th Fighter Squadron, reports Capt. W. O. Ash, commander of the Air National Guard Unit. Pilots are flying them in preparation for fighter type aircraft that will be assigned to the squadron.

Darwin L. Messersmith, aircraft communicator at the CAA weather station, has resigned.

Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Harnly flew to Nashville, Tenn., recently for lunch.

Instructor Wilbur H. Shafer flew to Dayton to pick up Carlton Fernyak and returned to Mansfield.

Kenneth Hockenberry flew his private plane solo cross-country to Mt. Vernon and return.

Albert L. Miller flew on a short solo cross-country to Bucyrus and return.

Fred McConnell, operator of Upper Sandusky airport, flew into Mansfield Municipal airport with a passenger. They met a Mansfield business man and the three of them flew to Cleveland, landing at the Lake Front airport for a business appointment in downtown Cleveland.

Instructor W. H. Shafer, Andrew Scheurer and Charles Hellinger made a cross-country to Columbus, Cambridge and Pittsburgh, Pa., last Sunday.

Eugene M. Brim received his commercial pilot rating from CAA examiner A. C. Tschantz of Richland Aviation.

$13,000,000 PLANT

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The Standard Oil company of Ohio announced plans today for construction of a 13-million dollar solvent refining plant for lubricating oils at Lima.

Death Claims Crash Victim

UHRICHSVILLE, O. — (INS) — The death toll in a truck-train crash five miles west of Uhrichsville stood at three today.

Truck Driver Gregory Karavanic, of Glenshaw, Pa., died several hours after the Pennsylvania railroad passenger train crashed into the first of two steel-laden trailers he was hauling.

Engineer Gordon C. Aley, 64, of Pittsburgh, and Fireman Charles A. Darr, 46, of Ingram, Pa., died in the fog-shrouded crash.

Thieves Throw Gems In Sewer

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Police hunted in city sewers today for a stolen aquamarine necklace and a jade set worth several thousand dollars.

Yesterday they recovered from the settling basin of an east end sewer a string of 109 matched pearls valued at $5,000. Detectives said the jewelry was pitched into the sewers by a pair of 14½ year-old boys who admitted taking them last week from the home of George G. Wade.

The youngsters kept a $4,000 diamond necklace, the detectives said, because "it was good for cutting auto window glass" so they could joyride in stolen cars.

WILL BUILD PLANTS

MARIETTA — (INS) — Two new plants of the Union Carbide and Carbon corporation will be constructed at a cost of $50,000,000 just outside Marietta on Route 7.

Elmo Roper Says:

France Seen Danger Spot of the World

The presidential campaign has had at best only the divided attention of the American people For easily one of the most important issues before the people these past three months has been the tense and serious developments abroad During the past few days, there seems to have been an abatement of the pressure for an immediate showdown in Berlin

But there has been a heightening not a diminishing—of the crisis in France As we discovered in our ten-nation survey on the Marshall plan last March, France is the real danger spot in Europe today Should France be taken over by the Communists, our position in Berlin, the rest of Germany, and the European continent would be untenable

The Marshall plan has given a democratic France a lease on life. But this lease will be nothing more than borrowed time unless the French government is able to stabilize the internal economy. For although Frenchmen might prefer a moderate government, as opposed to the extreme right or left, they will not long tolerate any government which cannot solve their cost-of-living and food problems.

And for this American aid, the French expect to pay a price. The largest single group in French public opinion are convinced that the United States wants to use the Marshall plan to influence the politics and business of their country The chief manner in which they expect us to influence their politics is to prevent France from going Communist We found that 51 per cent of the French believed we were aiding them to keep the Communists out of power or to rebuild France as an ally in case of war with Russia

The knowledge that there would be no Marshall plan aid if France went Communist has undoubtedly had an important political effect within the country. Sondage's mid-year survey of French voting preference showed a down-trend for the Communists:

	1947	1948
	%	%
R P F (DeGaulle)	32	29
Third Force Parties (Moderates)	22	26
Communists	22	18
Express no opinion	24	27

It is clear that the trend of French public opinion has been toward giving the moderate parties of the center more support.

But successive governments this past year under Ramadier, Schumann, Marie, Schumann again, and now Quielle, have been confronted with severe economic unrest.

After the recent cabinet crises, there were grave doubts in this country that the "third force" moderates could long maintain a working majority in the French Assembly.

But just last week, Bax Barioux, head of Service de Sondages et Statistiques, who has been steadily polling the French people during this crisis, reported from Paris that France can find a way between extreme right and extreme left. But he said that there were two conditions which would have to be met before the middle way would survive. One is external and the other internal

First, he told us, France must have the assistance of other nations not interference from them.

Internally he reported a desperate cynicism

"On the interior level," M. Barioux said, "the main problem is that honest work be made materially and morally more remunerative than dishonest activities."

Next Tuesday the attention of America will be focused on the results of our own Presidential election. The American people have said by a margin of 10 to 30 per cent that they want their next President to concentrate on foreign affairs. Whoever is elected next Tuesday will have to keep close watch over the explosive French situation, where the events which are taking place are probably fully as important to the peace of the world as the election in America.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE FARM FAMILIES OF
RICHLAND COUNTY

FRANK J. LAUSCHE
Candidate for Governor

It has always been the view of Frank J. Lausche that the interest of the farmer is identical with the interest of all good citizens in government.

Farmers want law and order maintained.

Farmers want thrift and economy in the administration of the state government.

Farmers want their elected officials to be answerable to the people and free from the dictation of pressure groups or political bosses.

Farmers want the divisions of state government administered efficiently, free from political manipulation. That is especially true in regard to the department of agriculture.

When Frank J. Lausche was governor of Ohio in 1945 and 1946 it was his objective to carry into effect these obvious principles of good government. Even a slight examination of the financial statement of the government of Ohio will show that extravagance has replaced thrift in the spending of the taxpayers' money. Farmers particularly will be interested in the following comparative table of money spent in the last three administrations for personal services of employees, paid out of the general revenue fund.

BRICKER 1943-1944	LAUSCHE 1945-1946	HERBERT 1947-1948
$45,092,275	$59,596,087	$90,310,542

It will be noted that the increase in this division of state expenditure was $14,503,812 more under Lausche than under Bricker. This increase was necessary because of pay raises and additional services rendered at the end of the war period.

The present administration is spending $30,714,155 more than was spent during the preceding two years. This is an increase of more than 51%, an increase hardly justified when it is considered how little was done. The spending spree of the present administration in 1947, in its amount very nearly equaled in one year what was spent for similar services during the two years of the Bricker administration.

For the first time in the history of Ohio the department of agriculture has been made a political football. Until recently this department, and almost all other departments of the state government, had direct telephone lines to the political headquarters of the present administration. These lines represented politics and not the interest of the farmers of Ohio.

The effect of this playing of politics is glaringly shown by an incident already well known to farmers, but which is important enough to bear repeating. During the Lausche administration there was spent approximately $12,800 for an assistant director of agriculture, for management of the Ohio State Fair and Junior Fair, and for accompanying secretarial service. During the present administration additional employees were hired for substantially the same duties, and $44,000 will have been spent by the end of the year for the service given by the Lausche administration for $12,800. This is an increase of $31,200.

There is no justification for this extravagant expenditure, other than that the administration wanted to put favored persons on the payroll.

If you want a governor who has a deep sympathy with the farmers and his problems, if you want as governor a man free from dictation of pressure groups and political bosses; if you want as governor a man committed to law and order and to thrift in the spending of taxpayers' money, your only choice at the election on November 2nd is Frank J. Lausche.

Sincerely,

Ralph Lutz

Chairman Richland County Democratic Executive Committee

E. W. Union Files Suit

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The embattled CIO United Electrical Workers Union is striking back at the government's charge of communist taint with a $1,000,000 damage suit against the Atomic Energy commission.

General Electric company also is listed as a defendant in the suit.

The union's plea for money damages—and for a court order cementing its contract with the General Electric company—grew out of the commission's decree that workers at a new atomic plant may not be represented by the U.E.

More recently the commission announced that unless the U.E. officers "very promptly" submit non-communist pledges and pass FBI loyalty tests the union also will be barred from a second Schenectady, N. Y., atomic laboratory, the Peek street plant.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

Evacuation Possible Red Weapon

Korean Actions Seen as Preview

The announcement from Moscow that Soviet troops have started to evacuate North Korea leaving behind a Communist-controlled "people's republic" and a conscript militia, may well afford a preview of things to come in Germany. The latest intelligence from Berlin supports this idea with reports of a police force, of purges, and of a forthcoming draft constitution in the Russian zone to prepare the ground for a proposal to withdraw the armies of occupation.

Mr. Drew Middleton of "The New York Times" goes on to say that in the opinion of American officials in Berlin "a Russian withdrawal, announced by the Russians at an international conclave, would be an important Russian weapon in the battle for Germany For the freeing of Germany from the occupation armies is a dream entertained by almost all German politicians Most of them view it as a prerequisite of true German unity and a rebirth of the German state"

There is little doubt that if the Russians actually begin to withdraw their army, as in North Korea, or if they come forward with a proposal that all the armies withdraw, Mr. Marshall and Mr Bevin could be caught off balance and seriously embarrassed.

The question, perhaps the weightiest in its immediate difficulties and its long consequences, is whether Mr. Marshall and Mr. Bevin are prepared to deal with a Russian initiative of this kind

It could be the decisive event in the so-called war for political influence upon the destiny of Europe For the side which first proposes a military withdrawal will have gained an immediate political advantage not only in Germany, but in Eastern Europe, and in most other countries, over the side which refuses to withdraw and has been maneuvered into arguing that military occupation should continue

The main consideration which has prevented us from seizing the initiative, from making ourselves the champions of the liberation of Europe from the Russian armies, is the knowledge that if and when the Russian armies go, they will leave behind them, as in Korea, a Communist puppet government with the apparatus of secret police and native Communist military forces

This is in truth the problem to which an answer must be found In considering it, we must however, remember that an answer will have to be found if Moscow proposes the withdrawal We cannot count much longer, as we have for over a year on avoiding this difficult problem by not making the proposal ourselves If we proposed withdrawal, we should, of course, need to have the answer. But if the Russians propose it, we shall also need to have the answer Therefore the difficulty of answering it is not a sufficient reason, is indeed no reason at all for renouncing the initiative and all the moral and political advantages that will go to the side which first proposes the end of military occupation, and of the dreadful danger of war rising from the fact that non-European armies confront each other in the heart of Europe

There is a crucial difference between Korea and Germany which I venture to suggest, may at least show us where to look for the answer to the question: What happens in western Germany if all the occupation forces retire, leaving eastern Germany under Communist control with German Communist military forces? Korea has never in this century had an army. If northern Korea has an army now, it had to be trained by the Russians. If southern Korea has no army, it is because we have not trained an army.

But the situation in Germany is radically different Virtually the whole adult male population of Germany has had military training Millions of the Germans are veterans, and there is no dearth of German officers Therefore, if there are German military forces in the Russian zone, it is not because the Russians have as in northern Korea organized them, It is because they have authorized them In the western zones, unlike southern Korea, the Germans are demilitarized because we insist on it not because there is a vacuum of military force. We could easily fill that vacuum by authorizing the Germans to fill it.

The real problem in Germany is, therefore, what German military force is to be authorized. There is no doubt that from the forty-five million Germans of the West a larger force can arise than from the much smaller Eastern zone Consequently the West is in a very good position to negotiate with the Russians on the crucial question of the size the composition the political control of a German police, militia, and constabulary.

It is not true that a proposal to withdraw the occupying armies would leave us with a situation like that in Korea: with organized power in the former Soviet zone and a military vacuum in our zone. The vacuum in our German zones would be filled rapidly, perhaps instantly, by the German veterans and their officers.

The fact that it would probably be filled if not with nazis certainly with German nationalists, would be the most compelling reason, both for the Russians and ourselves, to negotiate an agreement which regulates German military recovery, and provides guaranties against the revival of German aggression

Battling the Big Winds

Warnings Aimed At Cutting Damage

By SANFORD MARKEY
Central Press Correspondent

MIAMI, Fla.—Pleasant summer vacation hours are but the lull before the storms that are bringing destruction to the islands of the West Indies and the southern states of this nation.

The October-to-December hurricane season when storms hurl their fury and might against man and his property in the West Indies, Florida, the lower Mississippi Valley and the southern Atlantic states is here

Out in the southern Atlantic areas are the doldrums or atmospheric belts of calm air At this time of the year atmosphere disturbances of the blistering summer heat are moving along the equator up to the doldrums Soon winds will be stirring like lazy giants being angered by an unexpected awakening

The first inhabitants of the West Indies, the original Carib Indians knew and feared these giant storm gods whom they called the "Big Winds."

Down through the years, the Big Winds have made their annual appearance, beginning in the Caribbean area and sweeping northward with an unrelenting fury that at times reaches velocities of over 150 miles an hour

Since 1926 these hurricanes have caused over 2,000 deaths in Florida and property damage in the excess of $161,000,000

★

LAST YEAR, the storms ripped through Florida causing the death of 23 persons, injuring 227, destroying 178 homes and damaging more than 3,544 buildings Other winds ripped through Louisiana, Mississippi and Missouri extending the death and damage toll

Mindful of the fury of the hurricane, the government made extensive plans to arrest the fury of this year's storms These plans, according to I R Tannehill, chief of the weather bureau's division of reports and forcasts, are the most painstaking ever made

Under the over-all direction of Grady Norton, supervising forecaster for the weather bureau, a preliminary hurricane watch began on June 1. A teletype "hurricane circuit" had been put into operation that ties up all weather stations throughout the Gulf and South Atlantic coasts from Brownsville, Tex., around Key West and up to Charleston, S C

THE BIG WIND—Palm trees bend with foliage flying like flags as a typical Florida hurricane rages.

This circuit, operating around-the-clock, provides immediate transmission to all offices of the latest available information. Three times since June 1, the word has flashed around the circuit that minor storms have whirled up from the Caribbean sea.

One such storm has caused a destructive flood in Haiti and the Dominican Republic But the worst is yet to come and symptoms of the impending disaster are in evidence

At intervals during the past months, the weather bureau recorded ominous omens of hurricanes that now have come The signs included reports that the air over the Gulf of Mexico, the Caribbean Sea and eastward over the Atlantic ocean had become stagnant and very warm and humid Low pressure areas also were noted

★

AIR CURRENTS, too, began to blow into the center of the low pressure area Barometer readings have gone down and speeding up of the easterly wind in back of the low pressure area and a decrease in wind velocity ahead of the area also were recorded

Here, the signs stopped, and the signals pop up again Along with this there is an increase in wind velocity and the winds move in a curving direction

Result A vast system of inflowing winds spiraling about a common center and the entire system drifting slowly with the general air circulation of the region.

The weather bureau calls this somewhat like a whirlpool in a slowly moving river which begins to spin faster and faster while being carried along by the stream"

As the gathering wind picks up destructive power, the barometric pressure at the center continues to fall and the wind near the center of the storm blows harder and harder a hurricane is on its way.

Soon winds reach speeds of 50 miles an hour and velocities increase with the tempo of the storms, This speed, however, does not designate the movement of the entire storm itself, but represents the speed of the winds around the center of the gale, with the entire disturbance moving along at only 10 to 15 miles per hour.

In the Florida storms of last year winds of 150 miles an hour were recorded in and around the entire disturbance area However, the gales that were registered in the Mississippi river valley later in the year were less in intensity.

That hurricane brought with it the companion of the gales—floods Huge downpours came with the winds and at the same time the gales blew in huge waves over low-lying dikes that added to the flooded conditions.

Last year, the Army Air Force and the Navy participated in charting the course of the hurricanes so that warnings could be flashed ahead to permit communities to "board up and batten down"

At the same time, attempts to break up the hurricanes were made by seeding them with dry ice The results of those experiments are still top secrets

This year, both the Air Force and Navy, in connection with the weather bureau, will continue their flights to chart the storm's path More trained personnel and specially equipped aircraft will also be tossed into the battle of the elements

At the first sign or suspicion of a tropical storm, one of these planes will be dispatched to the general area to radio back regular weather observations and, if possible, "to determine and chart the exact location and intensity of the storm."

Radar, too may be employed by the air patrols to aid in determining speed and site of the hurricanes The only objection to radar, according to weather bureau officials, is that it is far too short in range to be highly effective in discovering hurricanes moving forward at speeds of 50 miles an hour.

At the center of the tropical hurricanes is the "eye center" of the storm Here there is little or no wind and the sky sometimes is so clear that the sun is visible by day and the starys by night

★

YET, IN THE "eye center" the temperature rises and the air becomes drier At sea, the waves are commonly described as, "mountainous and confused" Birds exhausted in the battle with the hurricane winds around the "eye" alight or fall upon the decks of ships.

All around this relative calm is the encircling wall of hurricane winds, which produces a rumbling or roaring sound The diameter of the relative calm center is not the same, but ranges from 7 to 14 miles

Frequently, the "eye" passing over a community, lends the belief the 'storm is over' Ignorance of the calm-center leads people to come out of storm shelters and expose themselves to the violent winds that kick up immediately after the calm center passes The resultant damage is excessive

Hurricanes are tremendous in size and terrifying in fury, but weather officials maintain that they can be battled with adequate warnings and precautions.

This then is the government goal, the setting up of their system of far reaching warning signals to chart and to supervise accompanying conditions in an effort to prevent any loss of life when the hurricanes strike and to keep property damage to a minimum

It is the age-old battle of man versus nature, and this year man will attempt at least to battle nature to a close draw

Extra Flesh Causes Fall

COLUMBUS — (FP) — Ohioans pick the oddest ways to get hurt, the State Industrial commission said today.

For example, take the case of a woman employed as a dishwasher in a hotel in Youngstown In asking the commission for compensation for injuries suffered on the job, she wrote

"Employes have to crawl under a box to get out of the kitchen. I am too stout to crawl under the box, so I stepped on the box to crawl over. The box tipped and I fell."

A carpenter at a Canton plant was smoking a cigar while working on a power saw The guard on the saw flew up, striking the cigar and pushing the lighted end against the carpenters' nose He suffered a second degree burn.

Denounces Conduct of America's Top Commanders In World War II

NEW YORK—As one who has defended the American "brass" against generalized and largely slanderous propaganda I feel impelled to say that the unchallenged disclosures written by Miss Kay Summersby are disheartening, if true, regardless of strict questions of legality.

American officers are expected to live by a code of conduct and discretion above and beyond maximum formulated verbotens of the 96th article of war.

Here we have a book entitled "Eisenhower Was My Boss" which is now on sale at many book stores. The effect of this book must be to tarnish the brass still more with both civilians and soldiers who put a fair value on the virtues that qualify men for greatness as distinguished from mere success and fame.

My own comments begin with the admission of this somewhat too girlish hard-boiled egg from the west end of London that she learned that her reputation was lost and was regarded as a bad woman. She was more surprised at this than you might be. To me this seemed to be the natural effect of sufficient cause. For Kay—everybody called her Kay, including Churchill but excepting Roosevelt, who called her "child" and invited her to sit beside "a dull old man"—Kay was a babe who ran up mileage all over Eisenhowers' war on no useful professional ability that I can detect in her story.

And she makes cheap, self-indulgent callow stags of some of our most illustrious generals. We have to admit that they provided the makings, though. She never could score on General George Marshall, who must have had some silent opinions of Eisenhower's conduct, or on General Montgomery, the Britisher, whose abundant faults did not include a recurrence of adolescence. Her opinions of them are correspondingly cool.

What makes such silly little Princeton freshmen of so many of our generals, anyway? God knows, soldiers of all nations have gone in for wenchery since the bow-and-arrow battles, but we were supposed to be developing quality and dignity in our professionals. Can't we have soldiers who are gentlemen, too?

Now General of the Army Dwight Eisenhower is supposed to be an adult man and most Americans old enough to do anything in a war know that a commanding general can get an American soldier to drive his car and do it better than any unclassified English woman at large. A soldier can change tires and tinker with engines, and most women can't, and this one was, if not unable, certainly inappropriate. But why labor the point?

Terms Handling of Ilse Koch Case 'Peculiar,' Summarizes Testimony

(And to U. S. Senator Ferguson's committee investigating Gen. Clay's peculiar handling of the Ilse Koch case.)

In the October 13th issue of the New York Herald Tribune Berlin correspondent Edwin C. Hartrich came to the defense of the U.S. Army in Germany in attempting to justify the reduction of the sentence of the Bitch of Buchenwald, Ilse Koch, from life to four years. The next day the Herald Tribune itself editorially supported its correspondent's position.

★

Here are a few of the facts which support the basic charge:

(1) Dr. Eugene Kogon (seven years in Buchenwald) swore to American newsmen that on one occasion Ilse Koch ordered 3,000 men to strip naked and stand motionless for three hours while she watched them. Those who dared to look at her were disposed of.

(2) One of the three United States attorneys who prosecuted Ilse Koch reported that the following testimony was given at her trial:

A witness stated that he and an Austrian priest were digging a ditch and were commanded by Koch to look up. They did so only after she threw stones at them. When they looked up they saw Frau Koch wearing only a halter and a knee-high skirt. She beat their heads bloody with a whip and then reported them for taking licentious liberties. They were then tortured by SS Guards.

Another witness, Kurt Tietz, testified that as a prisoner, he was compelled to satisfy Ilse's perversions. She tired of him and he heard her tell her husband (then Commandant at the camp) the prisoner had a mad desire for her . . . The next day the prisoner was sent to the solitary confinement cell for extermination. He was poisoned there by an SS camp doctor. Blinded, paralyzed and almost dead, he was spirited out of Buchenwald by the camp underground.

So there is no question but that Koch participated in the Buchenwald cruelty—beating, maiming and killing hundreds of prisoners. So without any regard to the "human skin" aspect of the case, she merited capital punishment. Only the fact she was pregnant at the time caused the sentence to be cut to life imprisonment.

Robert L. Kunzig (one of the prosecutors at the Koch trial) also said "that she was responsible for the destinies of more than 100,000 tragic victims. These facts were introduced into evidence. If a properly constituted court could find her guilty, no higher reviewing authority should attempt now to re-interpret the evidence.

"It is not within the province of a reviewing officer, a year later, to examine the credibility of witnesses. That lies with the exclusive prerogative of the trial court. Yet, that is exactly what happened. Considered purely legally, the reduction of (her) sentence is a judicial outrage.

"Considered from the standpoint of its effect on the international scene, the ridiculous leniency becomes virtually criminal.

"In spite of his comments to the contrary, General Clay could review the sentence once more. He has the legal power so to do under War Crimes Regulatians."

We hear that the President has reprimanded Clay, who now says that she may be re-tried before a German Penal Court . . . What a pity! We must now look to the Germans to establish Justice!

Probe Gas Angle In Poison Case

A new angle in the mysterious illness of four members of a Pavonia family was being investigated by county health officials today.

The possibility that the sudden illness of Jerald Ruckman, 28, Mrs. Ruckman, 23, and their two children, Jerrilyn, 6, and Robert, 1, was caused by carbon monoxide fumes rather than food poisoning was being looked into by health officials.

The four Ruckmans were released from General hospital yesterday where they were taken Tuesday after suddenly becoming ill.

They at first appeared to be the victims of food poisoning, and the health department was asked to investigate. Samples of food, water, and milk were taken from the family home and sent to the state health laboratory at Columbus for analysis.

Today Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner, said that he had sent samples of the four Ruckmans' blood to Columbus to be analyzed for carbon monoxide, but had not yet received a report on the findings.

Meanwhile the possibility of a leak in a gas water heater or gas furnace in the Ruckman home was being investigated.

Butler Span To Be Rebuilt

A new Union street bridge will be built in Butler early next year at a cost of $7,818. Construction of the new timber bridge was authorized yesterday by the county commissioners.

The village of Butler is contributing $500 toward the cost of the project. The work will be done by county forces and the county share paid out of auto license and gas tax funds.

Purse Taken By Snatcher

Police today followed up a description of a youthful purse snatcher who stopped Mrs. Frances E. Balliet, 180½ Marion avenue, last night on Douglas avenue, asked her a direction, then slapped her and snatched her purse.

Mrs. Balliet told police she got off the bus at Douglas and Park avenue west and started walking south on Douglas avenue when the man asked the way to Auburn street.

Mrs. Balliet said she replied she didn't know the direction and that the man struck her, knocking her to the pavement and pulled her purse from under her arm.

The purse contained $23, a check book, bank book, and compact. The snatcher was described as 18 to 20 years old, five feet, six inches tall, weighing 130 pounds and having dark hair.

Vandals Steal Two Plants

Theft of shrubbery placed on a cemetery plot in Memorial park cemetery on Park avenue west, was reported yesterday to the sheriff's office.

Mrs. George Long, of 461 Sherman avenue, told deputies that when she went to the cemetery yesterday afternoon she found that a rhododendron plant was missing.

She said the plant, which was two and one-half feet tall, was growing in a plot where her husband's grave is located. Mrs. Long said the plant had been planted there about four years ago. She replaced it with a smaller one yesterday. She said an azalea plant also was taken.

Deputies said that Mrs. Long had offered a $25 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who took the plants.

Police are working on the theory that vandals confiscated the plant.

Water-Saver Developed For Army

Will Aid Signal Corps Cameramen

NEW YORK —(AP)— With a new water-saver, a photographer can print pictures for the rest of his life, and use only 10 gallons of water.

Since most print shops use a gallon of water for each 8-by-10 print, the savings could be a sea of pure water. The common practice now is turn on the tap for water to wash pictures, and then let it go down the drain. Usually a half dozen baths in pure water are needed to wash the hypo or fixative chemicals from each print.

The tremendous saving of water is made possibly by an automatic water purification method developed by Dr. H. P. Gregor, assistant professor of physical chemistry at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn. Dr. Gregor undertook the project for the U. S. army signal corps.

The Signal Corps has mobile photo laboratories which in wartime moved up close behind the lines for quick processing of aerial and battle-films. But they had to have a handy river or lake for water—a quart per picture.

The army wanted some method so that the same water could be used over and over again. It had to be purified after it had been used to wash a few prints. It collected particles of silver and sulfur which would cloud or otherwise spoil the next prints.

The secret of Dr. Gregor's method is two columns or tubes filled with thousands of tiny particles of special resin. These resin particles filter out and capture the silver and other impurities, through a method of attraction known as ion exchange. The water is made and kept as pure as distilled water, he said.

11 Called For Draft Physicals

Examinations To Be Given Today

Eleven more Richland county men are taking their pre-induction physical examinations at the local army recruiting office today. They were called up to comply with the order received by local draft boards from the national selective service headquarters last week nearly doubling the number to be called for the examinations.

Originally the October quota for Richland county was 16 men. Those men were examined earlier in the month. The call for additional men to take the examination is due to the low rate of acceptability of those examined so far, Mrs. Leah Maxwell, selective service clerk, disclosed yesterday.

The quota for November will also be greater than that originally planned, she said. Next Thursday 22 men will be called for pre-induction examinations.

Meanwhile Capt. R. L. Pine, of the army recruiting office, said 280 men are due to take pre-induction examinations next month. October's increased quota has boosted the total number of men to be examined to 108 for the month.

The recruiting office examines men sent to it by the draft boards of seven north central Ohio counties. The increase in quotas will tax the office to its capacity, Capt. Pine said. He revealed that an average of 20 men a day are given pre-induction examinations. Men who enlist are also examined at the local recruiting office.

Bond Issue OK'd By 7 More Groups

The names of seven more endorsers of the campaign for the $2,250,000 Mansfield school bond issue which will be voted on at the Nov. 2 election were announced today.

Those endorsing the campaign are the Barnes Manufacturing company, Victorian club, Mansfield chapter of Hadaseph, the Insurance Board of Mansfield, Elks lodge, Marine Corps League auxiliary, and Fraternal Order of Police, Richland Lodge No. 32.

Finely chopped parsely added to a bread stuffing gives it excellent flavor; use about quarter cup of the parsley to two cups of finely cubed day-old bread.

Crunchy toasted Kellogg's All-Bran muffins laced with cheese . . . you'll get "raves" on these every time!

- 2 tablespoons melted shortening
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 2½ teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup grated American cheese

1. Combine shortening, egg and milk; add All-Bran and let soak for five minutes.
2. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; add cheese. Add to first mixture and stir only until combined.
3. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 25 minutes.

Yield: 9 muffins (2¼ inch size).

Student Canvass to Push Madison Bonds

100 Pupils Will Make Big Drive

Go House-to-House Today and Friday

More than 100 students of Madison township schools will back the campaign to convince voters of the Madison township school district they should vote in favor of the $180,000 bond issue proposal next Tuesday.

Tomorrow the students will take the afternoon off from their classes and go from house to house distributing bulletins telling of the necessity of bond issue.

They will complete the drive Friday when they get a holiday because of the teachers convention in Cleveland. Madison township will be divided into five districts and students from each school will be given one of the districts to cover.

The bulletin will contain facts and figures relating to the bond issue. The fate of the proposed bond issue will be decided by the voters on election day.

Part of the $180,000 would be used to finance completion of the Lincoln Heights building now under construction. In letting the contract for the building curtailments of $25,000 had to be made to keep within the amount of money available. Curtailments included taking of two rooms originally planned and substitution of cheaper materials.

The bulletin to be passed out will explain that if the bond issue passes, $25,000 will permit the replacement of the two rooms and the use of better materials.

The rest of the money would be used to build additional classrooms and improve others in the present high school building.

The Madison bond issue would be paid off at the tax rate of 1.5 mills on a dollar or $1.50 for each $1,000 property valuation over a period of 18 years.

English Doctors Discussing Snores vs. Happy Marriages

LONDON — (AP) — Dr. Ian G. Robin believes that science doesn't take the problem of snoring seriously enough even though he reported to the Royal Society of Medicine it may ruin a happy marriage.

More than that, he continued, the unfortunate adult sufferers have to bear with it in fear of ridicule and if they live in some parts of the United States may find themselves in the divorce courts.

Not to mention he added, "the agonized relations and associates" who have to spend sleepless nights listening to "vibrations in the soft palate and posterior faucial pillars." That's the technical description for snoring.

Dr. Robin proposes that western science follow the lead of the Japanese and do some intensive research on the subject. In Japan where the walls are literally paper thin one snorer can ruin the sleep of everybody in a wide radius so snoring has a lot more urgency there than the thickwalled homes of the west.

Snoring may be a condition of civilization according to experts consulted by Dr. Robin. One of them said he had never herad of a wild wolf snoring, for example, but that many domestic breeds of dogs descended from wolves snore. And that most sophisticated of dogs, the pekingese, frequently snores.

Appleseed Wins City Junior High Crown

Big Time Enjoyed By Kids

By CHARLEY STINE

FANS WHO FAVOR giving athletics back to the "kids" should have gotten a great boot out of last night's Appleseed-Simpson tilt. It seemed as if every seventh, eighth, and ninth grader in Mansfield was at the game and having a veritable picnic. Torn paper was strewn about the stands and confetti came floating on the field like snowflakes.

An estimated 6,600 persons — largest crowd ever to see a junior high game here — witnessed the contest, and a large majortiy were Simpson or Appleseed students. This did not include the dogs. There was apparently one for every player on the field.

In between all the fun, the two schools played some fine football and put on a half-time show that would make many schools sit up and take notice.

★

HIGHLIGHT of the half-time program was a political satire in which the Simpson band divided in support of Dewey and Truman. "Dewey," portrayed by John Reed, came in from under the west goal posts, in high hat and tails and bowing graciously to both stands.

After he had climbed on a soapbox and made a campaign speech to the "hurrahs" of his supporters, a banty-leg little fellow with large glasses came in from the other side with his band blaring loudly behind him. He too climbed a soapbox to the razzberries of the "Republicans." Finally "Dewey" took things into his own hands, hauled "Truman" down from the perch and began jabbing him with a cane. "Harry" (Billy Bowers) appeared to be an expert fencer and soon they were at it hot and heavy. Uncle Sam, played by Rex Brock, finally came off the Simpson bench to restore order.

PRIOR TO THE game, queens of both schools and their courts were ridden around the field in new convertibles, Simpson's brunette Shirley Yoakum in blue and Appleseed's blond Pat Daugherty in grey. Behind the Simpson queen came 17 little girls, each bearing a huge orange letter to spell out "Upset the Applecart."

The Appleseed band's specialty was an arrangement of "Beautiful Ohio," played in an outline formation of the state. Cities of Cleveland, Toledo, Dayton, Cincinnati, Columbus and Mansfield were designated by signs.

FANS CAME away satisfied that Senior high will not be lacking in the future in two specialties. Punting and passing was beautiful in spots, and Appleseed's Bud Montgomery was unveiled as the best punter to show in Arlin field this year. Montgomery kicked one from his own 43 which rolled over the Simpson goal and settled under the uprights. He had other boots of 43 and 31 yards and while deep in Simpson territory kicked out of bounds for 20 and 8 yards.

The passing of little Freddie Zahn spelled victory for Appleseed as it had in many previous games. However, Simpson's Bob Mathews, while not having luck with receivers still tossed some pretty aerials. One pass in the second quarter was a cinch score had not the unfortunate Louis Luckie muffed it on the Appleseed 35.

Leads Net Pros

NEW YORK — (AP) — From the top of amateur tennis ranks to No. 1 among the professionals in one year is the achievement of Los Angeles' Jack Kramer. Young Kramer, winner of the Wimbledon and national amateur championships in 1947, is placed first in United States pro rankings, announced today.

Long Pass Wins Ninth Of Series

By FRED THARP

Johnny Appleseed today is celebrating its third junior high football championship in nine years of battling with John Simpson.

The sparkling pass combination of Freddie Zahn and Joe Diemer clicked just once last night but the connection was good for 41 yards and the only touchdown of the game. Zahn kicked the extra point to give the Pioneers a 7-to-0 victory before 6,600 persons at Arlin field.

Both teams played hard and fine football except for rare instances. One of these was a Simpson fumble in the first quarter which paved the way for the Appleseed victory. Tackle Tommy Goodhart recovered the bobble on the 41-yard line.

PAYOFF PITCH

Bud Montgomery was thrown for a one-yard loss but Johnny Auer made up the yard on the following play. Then Zahn faded back for his payoff pitch to Diemer in the box. The Pioneer captain grabbed the ball on the 35 and a convoy of blockers cut down the secondary to escort him across the double-stripe.

Except for the lone score, neither team was able to penetrate beyond the 30-yard lines. It was a case of too much line strength for either team to do much leather lugging. Appleseed's vaunted running attack was stopped dead until late in the third quarter.

The Pioneers of Coach Jimmy Lymper made only two first downs, both on runs by Auer. He took a pitch out for 16 yards in the third stanza and picked up 11 on a reverse in the fourth.

Simpson had a definite edge in ground statistics. The Bulldogs, a four-touchdown underdog, made five first downs and gained 91 yards on the ground to 61 for Appleseed. Bill Semonoff, Bulldog half, personally made more yards than the entire Appleseed team. He carried 13 times for 62 yards.

ONLY THREAT

Simpson's only threat came in the fourth quarter when Semonoff and Jim Schafer engineered a 39-yard march which reached the Appleseed 38 before bogging down. Semonoff unreeled runs of 15 and 11 yards in the march.

With first and ten on the 38, Bob Mathews threw a strike to Semonoff, who bulled his way to the 23. However, the play was called back because of backfield in motion and Simpson never got going again.

The contest closed the season for both teams. Appleseed won eight straight and Simpson took two of six contests. But as usually is the case in traditional battles, records meant nothing last night. It was Simpson forcing the issue most of the time.

Madison Reserves Defeat Butler Grid Varsity, 14-6

BUTLER—The Madison reserves scored their second victory in four starts here yesterday by trimming the Butler high varsity, 14-6.

Butler scored in the first period but Coach Blaine Dowler's "Little Rams" came back for second and fourth period touchdowns.

A passing attack which clicked three straight times with Bud Bierly on the receiving end produced the game's first score.

Several plays later, Chet Sprague, the Rams' leading ground gainer, took a punt on his own 30-yard line and threaded his way through the opposition to tie the score. Don Hartman, the left-footed tape-measure specialist, split the uprights to put the visitors ahead.

The game was played on even terms from then until the fourth quarter when Madison scored on a sustained drive. Tom Durig plunged over from the three after Ray Enderle. Hartman and Chet Sprague had set the score up with alternate carries. Hartman converted for the second time.

Ashland After Fourth Victory Over Kenyon

ASHLAND—Ashland College's Eagles will be out to square accounts with the Lords of Kenyon when the two teams meet Friday night in Redwood stadium. Kenyon has won six of the eleven game series including a 19-0 triumph last year.

Ashland will be after its fourth victory of the season Friday against two ties and one loss. Kenyon has only one victory and one tie to show for five games.

Ashland tied its last two games, battling to a scoreless deadlock with Findlay and tieing Otterbein, 7-7. The Eagles have defeated Rio Grande, Cedarville, and Defiance, and lost to Heidelberg.

Citation Finds Easy Way to Win

BALTIMORE, Md. —(UP)— Citation could drop dead on the track tomorrow and still win the $10,000 Pimlico Special, a spokesman for the Maryland Jockey club said today.

The spokesman explained that under Maryland racing rules, any horse in a walkover contest merely has to put in an appearance on the track to be declared the winner.

'And it definitely will be a walkover," the spokesman said. "No other horse is entered and none will be qualified."

Detroit Baseball Tigers Stripped of 10 Players

DETROIT—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers were back in baseball's "doghouse" today, stripped of 10 minor league players in a ruling by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Chandler's order parallels the late Kenesaw M. Landis' sweeping 1940 decision which freed 91 players—including four major leaguers—owned by Detroit.

The Chandler ultimatum, however, cuts no major leaguers free nor does it assess any fine against the parent Detroit club.

But the issue is much the same. The Tigers are charged with "covering up" the movement of players in their minor league system by making unvalid oral agreements governing disposal of certain men signed to contracts with farm clubs in 1946 and 1947.

Specifically, Chandler's decree makes the 10 players free agents and punishes Detroit for the manner in which the players were handled—"contrary to baseball law and procedure."

Chandler's decision affects nobody now with Detroit, but takes away from the Tigers a pitching prospect, Ossie Kolwe, who would have gone to Detroit's Lakeland, Fla., training camp next spring.

Kolwe, who played with Durham, N. C., in 1948, was assigned to the Detroit club at the end of the season.

None of the other players the Tigers are accused of mishandling with improper agreements was considered ready for big league trials.

They are.

Infielder Bill Serena of Buffalo, Detroit's International league farm.

Pitcher Paul Hinrichs, who played with Dallas in 1948.

Pitchers Bill MacDonald and Jerry Ahrens, (Catcher Cliff Dooley and Outfielder Zeke Wilemon) of the Flint club in a Class A Central league.

Infielder Jimmy Moran of Williamsport in the Eastern league.

Outfielder Don Meyers and Catcher Clem Cola, of the Little Rock club in the Southern association.

Senior High Rates Nod Over Dayton Kiser

Panthers Corner City Title Market

In spite of their crippled condition, the Senior high Tygers are favored to return to the victory column Friday night against Dayton Kiser at Arlin field.

Coach Augie Morningstar announced today that Tommy Tucker and Bernie Weaver would be ready for part-time duty tomorrow. Both engaged in last night's long drill. They have been on the injured list for several weeks and played only sparingly in last weeks loss to Massillon

However, a factor could be the mental condition of the two teams The Tygers might suffer a letdown after being keyed up for Massillon while Dayton has taken a new lease after seeing the score of last Friday s tilt

RANKING POWER

Kiser is easily the ranking grid power among the Dayton public schools The Panthers have won four undisputed city championships and tied for two others since Bill Stover took over as coach in 1938 Kiser is well on its way to its fourth straight crown with three victories over city opponents

Stovers under-classmen loaded team has taken Roosevelt 32 to 12, Fairview 12 to 0, and Wilbur Wright, 20 to 0, in the Dayton league Outside the loop Kiser has lost three, falling before Steubenville, 40 to 6, Troy 28 to 6, and Lima South 19 to 7

Only 11 seniors dot the Kiser squad and five are in the probable starting lineup Stover alternates with two backfields One has two seniors and two juniors while the other has three sophomores and a freshman

BIGGEST MAN

The biggest man on the team is Don Hortman, the No 2 fullback who stands 6-4 and weighs 207 He spells George Markoff, a 133-pound junior The other backfield starters are Tom Davis 140-pound senior Joe Adamson 147-pound senior and Francis Lenehan, 165 pound junior

★

Although he has seen only periodic service in the last three games, Tucker still has the best average among the Senior high backs He has carried 32 times for 344 yards and a 10 8 average

A C Jenkins the big gun against Massillon is tops in total yardage with 481 while Capt Joe Miller has 451 Jenkins picked up 118 of his total against Massillon Miller tops the scorers with 48 points

Dickey Hired To Complete Yankee Staff

NEW YORK — (UP) — Slim Bill Dickey, who suffered through several unhappy weeks as manager of the New York Yankees in 1946, was overjoyed to be back with them today as coach under newly-appointed Manager Casey Stengel

The surprise signing of the former catching star completed the Yanks' brand-new board of strategy for 1949 which also includes Coaches Frank Crosetti and Jim Turner

"It means more to me to be back than it did to be manager," said Dickey 'This is the biggest thrill I ever got in baseball — outside of the home run I hit off Mort Cooper of the Cardinals that won the deciding game of the 1943 world series"

Dickey who resigned as manager under pressure from Larry MacPhail said he did not know what duties would be assigned to him by Stengel

"I think I can help Berra's throwing" said Dickey, who was once rated the best throwing catcher in baseball Dickey came up to the Yankees in 1928 and played his entire major league career with them serving as a naval lieutenant in the Pacific during the war Last season was his first outside baseball in 20 years.
